

A BRIGHT STAR

My life is an incomplete story that has been left by a great author Many tried, but failed to complete the role of him in my story.

My life is a place where feelings rule
Sweet and bitter
An island of feelings.

Today a bright star illuminates the whole sky like a bright smile which relieves us from all the pain

Today is the day when I came to this world
May be that the star shines too bright I feel that it is his blessings and tears that came through this fine beam of light.

For those whom I am a stranger
I have something to say
The tale of my life
A sweet sorrow.
