"Reading maketh a full man" says Bacon. It is true in fact that the words make a successful man. Words can be enriched through reading, writing and also through other cumulative skills. "WORDS" here means the way we talk, behave, express and presenting our views. Presenting positive thoughts and aspects within the society can make us to be successful in our life. The words that come from our mind makes a picturesque of our character in the public.

The "PEN" that we will with had lot of things to express as words. It is evident from the famous writers who become successful in their life with these words. Words can express one's own view to the society. Even the social, economical, and political sectors have a influence from the words. Our own views being positive or negative, and our capability to express views courageously before the public can help a lot.

In citing an example from our everyday life we could see that the complete society is revolving around a free-minded people. When they have an interest in presenting their own ideas through words, it become more interesting as well as a worthwhile thing.

Our Honourable Prime Minister Narendra Modi is a best example for the one who became successful with the words. He gave out his views in public that dragged the attention of millions and millions of people in our country that he become the prime minister of our motherland "India". This tactics of using words are also taken by the politicians of India as well as other countries. The politicians conduct different speeches that they can have a great influence on the minds of people.

One from the lowest level of our society can emerge into the top with "WORDS". "WORDS" here literally mean the words that we write and speak. But an insight of the "WORDS" make us have a look into the deeper meaning of the term. Here the words can represent inner capability, strength and virtues that one man should possess.

We all are looking out at the ways for becoming the best and successful in our life. But that can be achieved by these words. When we try to express our good virtues through words then it will make us successful. Character moulding also takes place by using good words.

When one peeps in order to find about the secret behind the words then one finds that its the good within the one that makes him express himself through words and become successful.

Even communication plays a great role. Communicating effectively can make one reach heights. In the current society where there has been a revolution in all fields communication can also prove a way to success.

We are all aware of the fact that one speaking , writing skills can improve through reading. "Reading is the mind what exercise is to body". Through reading also we can improve our knowledge about words . Words are enriched through reading . We can even see that when we have good reading skills then we will have a good knowledge about the various aspects in our society.

"Words are sharper and finer than the sword". Words that come from our inner self mind can influence others very strongly. It's our ability, through these words , we are able to have a good co-operation with others . A man becomes successful when he achieves the greatest things in his life . Words can help a lot in it . We can also see that nowadays even interviews are based on testing our communicative skills and our inner self .

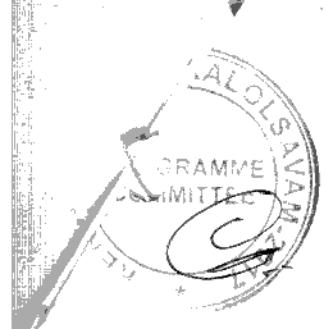

We could also cite ~~the~~ an example of the pioneer in English William Shakespeare, as the one who used his words to bring a mesmerising effect in the era of English literature. His works are notable because of the words that he uses and not only that we get a message from these works that we can apply to our daily life. Shakespeare through his most popular work "JULIUS CAESAR" shows how words can change one's mind. "ANTONY'S SPEECH" the most popular part of the work show how words can have influence on one.

Character and the words are correlated with each other. It is curious enough to know up the fact that the words that we speak represent our views about which can make an impression on others mind. A good character makes one successful in life. Good manners, and virtues makes us different from others.

"Words" are the things that can even change our attitude in the public. The society's concept about one changes when he can express his views through the words. character moulding also improves through this. Having a handful of virtues for oneself to express in public makes us have an outlook in public likewise the words we use changes our image.

A man should be able to express himself through his words. It is why the writers all over the world became successful as they tried to convince the public about how powerful the words are. Even the society widely accepted the various ideas being expressed by them. This also shows how words can influence one's mind greatly.

Besides reading and writing communicating effectively can help a lot in building up a good imagery about oneself. we could also list out examples from our history, like taking up the case of Independence struggle also.

Gandhi ji, our father of nation, resorted to the idea of non-violence. Even when he had a good amount of public support. Here the words play a role. Gandhiji could express his ideas and opinions through his speech. This made him have a good support from the public. The way he expressed his ideas on to the mass, made them abide his policies in life. This in turn had a good impact on the minds of people also.

Thus we all should know that words that we use mean a lot in our public as well as our private life. Gathering knowledge through these words help us in achieving the fruits of success. Even the great personalities and businessman take up this idea of using words to express themselves and create a greater image of themselves in others mind help them to successful. So we should try to understand how the words coming from within ourself can draw up an image of us in others mind and hence we could have a fruitful success in our life. Even we as student should try to understand about this fact & try to imbibe good values in our life.
