Education system and social commitment

There was a time when our education system centred around banyan trees, where pupils of tender age were forced to live away from their parents, offering a part of their valuable life with the teachers, whom in 'India', the land of morals and ethics called 'Gurui' and their teaching centres were called Gurukul.

Of course, the scenario has changed completely, giving birth to a generation who refer themselves as 'breakies', devoid of the knowledge of vedas, upanishads, ethics, giving birth to a generation where one or two make fame as social reformers and workers, when the remaining crores find themselves indulged in crimes such as rape, corruption, communalism etc.

Who are the responsible ones who caused this deterioration of values and principles? Who should be kept responsible for this ^{mass} evolution of breakies? How can the land once known as Asha Abode of all wisdom and ethics gave birth to such children who don't know even their heritage? How can the same land which gave birth to Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi, Nehru, Vivekananda itself give birth to Vijay Malaya, ^{Pratap Govinda Chami} and other culprits of law and order. Come on, this gives the rise to the great solution, the great change that should occur to the Indian society: the change of the educational approach.

The education which once always was meant to solve all the problems of people has nowadays itself been a problem. The education which ~~has~~ ^{was} always meant to arouse curiosity and develop an human attitude has itself aroused rationalistic thinking, of even mother's love for her child. The cold calculating reason cannot define in right words the ^{infinite} love of a mother towards her child.

Through education, man has developed broader outlook and can ~~define~~ ^{distinguish} what is right and wrong. He can understand the feeling of nationalism and its difference from aggressive nationalism. He knows that education plays a vital role in the development of character and personality of an individual. Remember, education which starts at a tender age, imparts long lasting effects on the wet clay piece, the human child's mind.

We are yet to know that if when through education, children equipped themselves with the knowledge of science and technology, they should also be taught when, where, how and what should be used in the right time. It is true that nowadays, our world has changed into a pressure cooker that can explode at any moment, which can challenge the very existence of man in his very planet, earth due to nuclear weapons. When education taught man that nuclear weapons can protect him, his society, his country with the attack of vested power, it is the high time to arise the question did education succeed in teaching him the principle ~~that~~ of Abraham Lincoln that 'malice for none, charity towards all'. Come on, education need to be moulded as the present education system determines the quality and ability of a child through the yardstick of teacher's knowledge and a few numbers he acquires in the mugging up of facts during examinations.

^{But saying that}
When education has not build wonderful deposits to the world, is truly a wrong statement. It has awarded William Shakespeare, Abraham Lincoln, John Keats, Sarabha Lal Nehru, Gandhiji, Subash Chandra Bose and what all. They have understood that the ultimate aim of education is social commitment, to understand the right terms of developing reasoning, scientific attitude, everlasting enthusiasm and wisdom and to develop civic consciousness. Civic consciousness is the general term that defines the recognition of an individual that he is for the society and vice-versa, the genuine interests of the society are his.

Instead of developing an educational system which gives more priority to progress, the mathematics of loss and gain, the science which helps to build nuclear weapons, the social studies which helps the children to test themselves how well they can mug up facts and spit them in exams, and philosophy that teaches them how to ~~not~~ recite and reason, we need an education system which teaches the children that mathematics is the study of fractions and algebra, which helps them to develop love in households and society as, dividing a single cake into 2 can feed two children in home and social science is for developing a social attitude and to make man be called a social being. When social science teaches the children the exact heritage of our country, and the unnecessary imitation of western cultures by wearing sleeveless and bare-chested and that our country too had once given birth to a person whom the world bows, Gandhi, of whom once Einstein said that "The coming generations will never believe,

2. I am afraid, that such a man in tear and blood had walked upon this planet
once".

It will ^{be} the success of social science, if children recognize their participation in national integrity and ^{to} the need to make it a developed country equipped with weapons, ~~also~~ eradicating poverty, unemployment, teaching the children ~~that~~ the saying

'Matra Pitha Guna Devam' and that women should be treated as goddess and not some property.
Remember, the Nirbhaya Case that occurred in Delhi in 12th December 2012, it was a juvenile of less than 20 years who ^{took part in} ~~raped~~ raping her brutally. Now when ^{education} ~~science~~ gifted us A.P.J Abdul Kalam in science, Vivekananda in oratory, Arundhati Roy in ~~star~~ literature, Indira Gandhi
in politics, can we forget Ameer-ul-Blam, the prominent actor, the corrupted officials of our country. Never.

Thus, the situation arises that in order to curb poverty and unemployment, we need vocational education, which ~~does~~ ^{help} the people to gain jobs just after high secondary education can become instrumental in developing our country. But remember priority should also be given to value-education so that coming generations of the country become fit to be called human rather than animals.

Remember,

"Education builds character"

— Swami Vivekananda.

Education, should equip the individuals to think of inequities prevailing in the society and to question them, should teach them the discrimination prevailed in the society ^{on the basis of} like gender and caste, should teach them the responsibility that they should perform towards their society ~~the~~ rather than making them arrogant and cold-blooded creature.

Educational reforms have been made in our country in the year 1981, and which led to the formation of Navodaya schools in each district to impart quality education, launch 'Operation Blackboard to universalise our primary education'.

The British form of education meant to create clerks ^{to occupy} in government jobs in India has been changed by the educational ~~st~~ stalwarts of our country and certain reforms to launch high infrastructure features in schools and to impart quality education was also developed in our country. The reforms like Kothari Commission, Zakir Hussain Commission, Lalshama Prami Mudaliar Commission etc. are examples.

Education should equip the people of our country to understand that voting system should not be taken for granted, as a tea cup kept in our dining table, sip when you like, spit when you like. Through voting, ~~the~~ ^{education} government should ensure that people are capable to select and reject candidates. This helps the country to progress and to attain development.

Education is meant to make people more humble rather than arrogant. Taking examples like Donald Trump, the famous populist of USA and our humble president A. P. J. Abdul Kalam, both had gone through a lot of troubles and have achieved success in their life, but their methods of thinking were different.

When A.P.J. Abdul Kalam recognized missiles as just weapons to frighten the enemy and had given keen advice never to use them, Donald Trump, thinks of the ^{refugees} ~~refugees~~ as a waste ~~are~~ who don't deserve any right treatment. This education moulds in different ways and it's right to say that teachers are the lamps that impart light to the student life. Nowadays, in the present education system, our ~~country~~ teachers are never a constant learner when in ~~university~~ education, though deprived of systematic timetable, benches, desks and other comforts, teachers were occupied themselves to answer all the questions and education was imparted based on the interests of the student.

Wardha Plan that was devised by Gandhiji is really effective and needs to be thought about. It refers to giving priority to both ^{vocational} education as well as value education. When the citizens of the country can ^{understand} ~~distinguish~~ the pain in a beggar's eye, the problem of old-age homes and the selfish ~~ness~~ motives of corrupt officials, these education becomes effective. It's not about understanding but about reacting

The youth of today are well educated and can suggest suggestions for ^{curbing} corruption, black money, violence against women, waste disposal techniques and the problems faced by the nation due to poverty, illiteracy, unemployment. They can also impart education to adults who are not educated and can help them distinguish the difference in throwing a ball and an atom bomb.

Nowadays, computers via internet are imparting education ^{and} can develop each ^{average} person into a resourceful one. But these machines have no gift of heart to feel and no boon of brain to think, thus it can make a human a machine or ~~sometimes~~ a beast. In the present scenario, when the ^{role of} teachers are moving to the background, remember that, ~~the~~ only a teacher can teach a child to become someone like Mahatma Gandhi, his principles, words and methods of struggle. A machine can only impart the knowledge, of who, what, where was Mahatma Gandhi. Thus teachers should always be given a importance ^{and} can the systems of bending before teachers before any event should be made compulsory as they are the backbones of our development.

Education made us realize the scientific reason behind lightning and that it is not God's wrath that produces it. It helped us to question many religious customs and superstitions that prevailed in the society against the interests of the masses. But education, nowadays itself ~~should~~ has become a superstition.

A mode of education should be applied in such a way that children take part in social events rather than sitting with wires hanging on ears, so that they become social beings. They should read books as books reading imparts ability, gives arguments to devocate and can even teach us how to become a useful human being. A mode of education should be created so that people understand in coming years that wars are not solutions for anything and forgiving is the act of divine

They should be taught that by saying, imitation, the west and due to influences of globalisation and indoctrination that "James and Molly to park to set is sailing in a ship", by real means and putting them to rights which these common people understand and Molly wants to marry, they don't any language giants they should be by forgetting culture, our heritage, festivals, poets, teachers etc, they do the contact & with their roots and he unstable. The blind imitation of the never the order of the day, but the problems arising in the border, problems, suggesting solutions, take rights they are become giants before of people who may call them a "saviours)

Remember, Gandhiji was never popular because he knew english or ~~know~~ studied in london, because education made by what Mr. Shashi Tharoor says,

"while he was alive, he was impossible to ignore, when he faded away, he was impossible to imitate!"

The opponent of Napoleon in Waterloo ^{once} said that "The courage to fight against Napoleon was gained by me through sitting and seeing the empty walls of my classroom and the slight advises of my teachers". This shows the priority of education moulds a person's life.

Nowadays, at the global level, education reforms are coming up and online systems is in the schemes to implement, discussions and debates are going around in our country of how to improve an education system and how to create one that is highly suitable for Indian context. The right methods to teach them at a tender age, values and to rightly interpret their qualities and powers in various fields and teaching them according to their likes and let them be more civic consciousness and understand the ruin of the country is his ruin and the gain of the world is his gain rather than ~~as~~ as Alexander the Great at the time of death said

"Too many doctors are discussing ~~for~~ and ~~not~~ working hard for my death".

Thus education should be never be interfered more than a limit and the problems, causes and effects ~~and~~ of ~~the~~ education and the regions which needs more problem-solving should be analysed, and criticised and solved.

Due to gender and caste inequalities, where many people even though ~~be~~ deserving by merit are pushed to the background as Mahatma Gandhi referred "justice to some with gross injustice to others" of ~~water~~ reservation, many intellectual heads, capable of saving the society from many scourges migrate to other countries and donate time for saving their resources, our country again turn to the educational reform.

Through education of various fields like upcoming multimedia, banking, telecommunications, environment studies, eco-tourism etc.: we can generate more employment opportunities so that the problem of poverty and unemployment can be curbed and the intelligent brains serve their respective country. "We need to shoot to the moon, so that even if we miss we reach amidst 'stars', to achieve this global need."

China the country that became independent ^{before} or ^{less} ^{after} our country has achieved ~~much~~ progress in all fields whereas our country is lacking progress in some aspects, due to its educational policies.

Education imparted to people in India should never be tagged for any purpose, it should be for self-realisation. When A.P.J. Abdul Kalam, C.V. Raman, Dr. M.S. Swaminathan, Homi J. Bhabha, Sachin Tendulkar, Varghese Kurian, ~~kept~~ ^{donated} their time for human welfare and used the education imparted ~~for~~ during school and college periods, the long ~~times~~ ^{periods} of observation and experiments in childhood, education reached its aim, of course, it reached the society.

When educated people, understanding the purpose of education, impart education to other people through adult literacy programmes and select the real ~~candidates~~ leaders of the country, rather looking at their educational qualification, affidavit, character certificate etc.: rather looking or investigating their caste, religion, region of birth, the education becomes the weapon of the society. When they stand with the tears of a father who ~~loves his~~ is in the edge to lose his daughter as he has no money to invest in the mouth of vested interests, when he identifies that for a mother, her son is the greatest prize rather than any belonging, when he begins to identify humans as one or without anyone less than equal, there our education reaches its aim. When nuclear weapons are just used for outshining and not for war and when development do not obstruct the stride of nature, there he is identified as an educated man. When electricity was made by Michael Faraday for the first time, people became against him as if he has done something against god, when Socrates ^{and Archimedes} was condemned to death, remember they ~~made~~ ^{wrote} their valuable as their logics ~~and~~ ^{and} formulas are even used today.

Let us hope for bright future, where the education system which is meant to mould and equip a child's mind, a small piece of wet clay that receives and carries anything for a lifetime when something is imprinted on it, is devoid of mistakes and limitations. Let the children reach upto their aim, stretch out to get their dreams and play a good role in social reforms and Commit their life for society ~~where~~ ^{like the} vibrant ~~people~~

youth of the country like Laxmi Bai M.M. Kalburgi etc.:- preached the social commitment through their actions,
 education performed its purpose when newspapers
 do not provide or give priority to sensational news, when the ~~can~~ mass media becomes devoid of vulgarity, then education attains its aim through the rightly educated youth when rightly educated youth understands and criticizes and comes forward with suggestions for problems and when their art of literature
 attains heights, when they use their brains
 for welfare of the country, to provide food for the poor, to provide shelter to the refugee,
 to make the corrupt officials understand ^{that} they cannot eat money, when environmental issues are curbed sustainably and when the name of our capital, New Delhi, the most polluted city fades into the background due to timely and mature intervention of Indian youth, when they understand that humans are one race and there is no difference in ^{their} blood and cells, then education reaches its aim. When youth understand that the society is never condemned to ~~live~~ live like that, they are regressed and oppressed, when

P recognizes as someone as great as Gandhi, whom the people all their various, does it tolerate all the discriminations and inequality in the name of secularism, who fights against gross injustice, these, my dear readers, our educators, our leaders will be proud of.

We should combine our education system with agriculture, yoga, ^{technology} teach them how to prevent disasters in times of need and how to face them; meditations, self-employment, these are aims of making our country a developed one reaches.

Our society should never make more Osama Bin Laden who finds joy in seeing violence and blood, instead our society should create peace lovers. The time has ~~reached~~ reached, the right time to start the long run, to cry with pass, to join with truth and to play the game to win. We should never achieve the field of nuclear giants and ethical infants.

"The journey of a million steps start with a single step" ✓

Let's become the resourceful and valuable people whom our country will be proud of.
