STORY

Agent Rana

Rahul was alone at home. Suddenly, the phone rang. He was not aware of the fact that, it was an unfortunate news. He ran quickly with great excitement. When he attended the phone, his face began to fade. The call from the city hospital, Kollam. His dad had occurred an accident. He was admitted in the operation theatre for three surgeries.

Rahul lost his control and suddenly he took his bike and drove the bike to city hospital. On the way, he didn't notice a dog that suddenly jumped into the road. The bike hit the dog and he also fell down.

There was a group of people who gathered around a man, who was bathed in blood. Nobody was trying to help him, but to capture the photos in their mobile phones. Suddenly a woman came from the group and said:” Are you the most thoughtless people in this world? A person is starving to die. All you bumpkins are trying as blind. No, it should not be done like that. All of us are humans. We shouldn't be as an evil.

All the people who gathered around there suddenly understood the real meaning of humanity. The message 'Humanity towards all' spread like a fire over there. The people who gathered at there carried Rahul to the city hospital. When he became conscious, he firstly asked his father. But unfortunately, his father had left away from him forever. But the doctors lied that he was alive and completely recovered from the injuries. Soon after Rahul became able to walk and one day, a private dictetive came into his house and told that, his father was dead and it was a murder. He was Agent Rana, an officer of CBCID. He made an investigation. As a result, he found out four evidences. Fingerprint of the killer, blood samples, hair ofthe killer, and his shoes with the knife. As a result, he found the real killer, Daniel, who was the notorious criminal of the state. He killed Rahul's father due to some land issues. Days after, there spread a news of that, someone has killed Daniel, the notorious criminal. The body was found among the garbage and he was found as shooted. From the garbage, there was a man who held a gun in his left hand, named Rahul.!!

Easy love

How many times can we pick up the same fight?
can we keep screaming all night and make up until its light that's when I say that you are right and feel you body on mine oh, maybe that's why stay I could be somewhere chilling on a beach
I could be with someone Making me happy
But that would be too easy love
I don't want no easy love
loving my mind
I am burn in on the edge of something beautiful dream
I don't want no easy love.

THE ALCHEMIST

There's a mysterious light
Burns all through the night
In that house where some people say
An alchemist dwells
With books full of spells
And a cat who scared children away
Some say that he lives in that House all alone
Some say he has claws and a beak
Some say he keeps rats
And Vampire Bats
And a raven He's taught how to speak
And the children play Dare
“I dare you to spy,
I dare you to knock on pane”
They say those who dare
To enter his lair
“Have Never Been Seen Again”.

FRIENDSHIP

Friendship is a priceless gift
That cannot be bought or sold
And its value is far greater Than a mountain made of gold
For Gold is cold and lifeless
It can neither see nor bear
And at the time of trouble
It is powerless to cheer
It has no ears to listen
No heart to understand
It can't bring you comfort
Or reach out a helping hand
So when you ask good for a gift
We thank him if he sends No diamonds, pearls or riches
But real true FRIENDSHIP

GULL

The oil stricken gull has struggled ashore,
and although full -grown,
looks like a bewildered scraggy fledgling her oil-tarred wings seem Heavy as lead
as she totters slightly,
stiff-legged
staring out at us
with an unblinking atomic ,almost comic surprise
She Hasn't Taken any slides
But she's lost Her Natural Home and more. An unanswerable cry is stuck in Her throat
Why?Why?Why?

Moral story

Help From Rain

Once a man was returning to his village. It began to rain heavily. The man cursed the rain. Soon some robbers surrounded him. The man fought with them. The leader of the gang took out a gun and pressed the trigger. But the gun didn't fire. The rain had soaked the gun powder and therefore, the gun didn't fire. Then he drove the robber away.

He thanked the rain and proceeded on his journey. He said, "Forgive me for cursing you. If it hadn't rained, I would have been killed."

MORAL : The story asks us not to curse anything without thinking.

The Brahmin and the lion

A Brahmin was passing through a forest. There he saw a lion in a cage. He felt pity on him and opened the cage. As the lion came out, he pounced upon the poor Brahmin. He wanted to eat up the Brahmin. The Brahmin told the lion that the lion should save his life as he was his rescuer. But the lion was very hungry. He said that was the law of the world. Everybody in the world was selfish. First of all other to them asked a tree about its opinion. The tree said that the people ate its fruits and sat on its shade, but they still cut it down for fuel. Then they asked a horse about his opinion. The horse said that as long as it served its master the later gave it enough food, but as it became old, its master neglected it, so to be selfish was the law of the world. Then the lion and the Brahmin asked the fox to have the final opinion. The fox frightened that he couldn't understand them. So, the original situation must be restored. As the lion went into the cage, the fox asked the Brahmin to shut it and move away. Thus, the lion was again in the cage

PAST FLOOD KERALA

The land of God, the land of diversities, the land of beauty. These words are not enough to describe the beauty of our land, Kerala. Kerala is really the beautiful country of God constructed with the value of "Nature". The God proved his ability in creating the best through the small state, Kerala.

Kerala, the 'God's own country' witnessed a huge flood a few months ago. It was really a heart shocking incident to all of the keralites. Malayalees lost all their properties, houses, and even their family. Every lives were in misery at that time. Districts like wayanad Idukki, Pathanamthitta, Thrissur faced a vast Disaster.

After effects of this flood were the real worst thing. the people had to stay in relief camps without any facilities. They had to stay together irrespective of caste, wealth, creed From this we can understand the tolerance of malayalis. The worst thing was the condition of women and children.

The Highlight of flood we face was the transformations of youths. The New Generation once were called as morons really helped our kerala a lot. These youth used the social media for rescue works. In fact the social media acted as the live control room of the rescue activities. One of the most helpful people were the merchants and the navy who became the helping hand for our state by risking their lives.

The Only one reason for the people to overcome was the economic help given by the people from all over the world. A comment in facebook which thundered in kerala was “can a person from Pakistan donate money to the flood relief camp” reveals the humanity in people.

This is an evidence that Our state doesn't mind any problem whatever the cause is. Flood is not an end ;its really a beginning .“You are not helping others,you are creating the history”are the words of our collector VASUKI was really a motivation to our people.

Flood made our world Transparent,clear and beautiful. Its really a new state ,the state of love. Let keralites be more helpful,kind and lovable.

THE LOST LIFE

My life seems to be a boat
Searching for the lost coast
Triffing with high seas Working fluent waves in that,
Or is it some old memories
On looking the long lost sandy beach
Never over ending the life's most longing Pressure! Or is it some ending rough music, Beach falls me a revulet
Making me the sweet song in it Feeling my life lost.

THE FOOLISH TURTLE

Once upon a time there lived a turtle named kambuddhi . He lived in a pond that was in a corner of the palace garden and it was surrounded by banana and mango tree. The moss in the water made the pond look braight green along with kambuddhi there lived other birds, fish, snails and crabs in the pond kambuddhis habit of talking too much about him self all the time made him unpoplar with other in the pond.

One day kambuddhi said to Madam Rohu who lived with her huge me . When she came to bath in this morning. She said she had never seen a more handsome turtle than me! “madam Rohu knew he was lying . When the princess came to bath today you were asleep under a large stone . The princess came to bath today, you were fast asleep under a large stone. The whole pond heard you shore! I wish you would stop boasting “grambling she turned around and with a swish of her tail swam back to her house. It was no wonder that. The turtle did not have any friends.

That winter , two geese came to the pond. The geese tried to settle in the warm water of the pond as they seemed very unfriendly. Only kambuddhi was willing to talk with. The geese . The turtle was very happy to show off his knowledge to geese were happy to find a friend in this strange place. That year the rains failed , and there was famine in the country. The animals in the pond began to wither and die. The animal in the pond decided that it was time to leave the pond and find a new place to live. Once day a crow came back cawing happily . “I have found a lack , oh the other side of the mountain , where there is lovely , sweet water and enough place for all of as to live ” . the birds and the fish were over joyed to here the good news . Immediately , they began to prepare for the journey to the new lake. The turtle however was hot too happy. He spoke to his new friends, the geese, about his inability to travel quickly like the others. The two geese though for a while and came up with an idea. That they would carry a thick strong strong strong stick in there beaks as they flew to the new lake and kambuddhi could hold the stick with his teeth and hang and hang in the middle.

On the day of the journey, they checked the stick to make sure. That it was strong enough to hold the turtle. They told him “please remember one thing . You are not to open your mouth till we reached the stick with their beaks and the turtle held onto the stick with his teeth and off they went . They flew higher and higher over hills, valleys, fields and plains. The turtle was thrilled to be flying in the air and soon they were over a town. The people of the town were surprised and laughed on seeing this strange this strange sight. The children shouted , “look! What a funny sight have you ever seen a turtle flying?”.

The turtle became angry as he did not like people making fun of him. He open his mouth to scold them. As as he did so, he did so, he lost his hold on the stick. He dropped down down and died. It only he had listened to his friend and not opened his mouth, he would have reached the new
