

Item Code: 957

Participant Code: 118

The line between us

Hey you, listen to me
why dont you speak up what you feel
This world is all yours to speak
And you are able for all those deals

You are not just meant to be a cook.
You can also give a staring look.
You are not just meant to feed others
But also meant to read aloud.

Remember life has no reverse flow.
If we slow we will loss our glow.
So dont step backward.
Just step forward.

We may have difference in us.
So people call us women and men.

Item Code: 957

Participant Code: 118

But both of us have that scarlet river
Flowing through our heart and veins.

When people draw a line in front
A line that separates you from me
You are not supposed to bend
But rather move ahead to win

Hey my people listen to me
The line between us is not of separation
Let this be the line of love
That can hold us tight and strong
For a lifetime