

Future Of Democracy

Democracy; the soul of nation ~~is~~ or not

"The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of dreams," said Eleanor Roosevelt. What are the consequences that would appear when we believe in our dreams or not doing so? Democracy is such a thing that is often present in someone's dreams while for some, it is another thing in their daily life scenarios. But for wise and visionary ones, it is the soul of people itself. Democracy's future depends upon the actions and attitudes of the people towards it.

People from ancient times are being evolved into modern people, along with the transition of their own livelihood. Human beings encounter many changes in the passage of time. Democracy is that kind of change that happened in the transition of life. Ancient people lived in several groups led by a leader who is bonded by blood relation and the leadership passed hereditary. This can also be seen in monarchy. The dominance over a kingdom and role of power encouraged hierarchy.

When people thought about themselves and with the emergence of humanism and rationalism, the concept of Democracy arrived.

Democracy is a form of government where people have the major role in the participation and formation of the government. According to respected Abraham Lincoln, democracy is the government of the people, for the people and by the people. The core aspect of democracy is . . that the people select their leader themselves. People can find the right power which they can experience a just rule.

India is a democratic nation in which democratic rule happens to perform. But there arises a question - are all measures and actions of all states of India truly democratic? We can answer it . . in many ways. Some people would respond that the vision of democracy will reach the people while . . there is equity. Others would say that everyone need equality in their lives so there should be equal . . distribution of everything. Both Responses of the people vary according to their perspectives. Democracy becomes meaningful only when each and everyone get involved in

it. Everyone should get equal opportunities and rights.
The future of democracy depends upon a numerous factors
. . . . First of all, people should have the sufficient . . . knowledge about the concept. A minority of people are not aware about the themes of democracy. This in turn affects the democracy in present times and in turn reflects in its future. Proper knowledge about a particular thing is needed to develop a personal opinion of about the respective subject one. Most people in India still niggardly refuse the efforts of control because of their to know about democracy because of their poverty and discomfort

The government actions are the symbols of a good kind of democracy, when it is they are accepted and recognised by everyone in the country. . .
When government take actions which are accepted by the majority, we can say that the meaning of democracy is applied over there

Consequently, with the good measures taken by the . . .

government, the vision of people also would change. . . . They would dream of a society that have literary and knowledge. People would be aware of the do's and don'ts of the government and take necessary actions. They can elect their leaders and dream about a society and a better version of democracy in the future is would be formed. . . .

However, what will happen then where there is no knowledge about democracy? The people would be exploited by the government. There would be no rights. The democracy would not become meaningful here. So, there would not be anything named democracy in the future. . . .

A democratic nation only could provide enough human wealth in its progress. People would could open up ~~with~~ any terms of government's opinion faults, unlike in the monarchy. The aspirations of the people are achieved only when the governing system function properly to meet the needs of people. So, a democratic society is an indeed thing which act as the soul of nation. . . .

The future of democracy represents its past actions. It is the duty of government to develop an inclusive nation.

We feel relieved to know that government actions are made to make democracy meaningful. 'Universal Adult Franchise' that came into act according to the Constitutional Amendment, remarks the implementation of democracy, where citizens of above 18 are allowed to vote for elections to select their leader. 'Nava Kerala' mission shows the active support of state government for the people to attain education, economic stability through certain sustainable goals to form a new Kerala, which is hygienic and comfortable along with the environmental problem resolutions. 'Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana' makes every people living in the urban areas, who are homeless, feel secured by a new home. 'Kaari Shaktikaran' by the central government plays a major role in women empowerment in India, where a major section of the government come forward.

..... Woman empowerment remarks the success of democracy in India. Nowadays, women are coming forward to not only political sectors, but also to military fields. The famous women in India who are who inspired other women are Sarojini Vaidya, Medha Patkar and Rani Lakshmi Bai. The military power of wing commander Vyomika Singh and Sofia Qureshi represents the women power and also the potential of democracy in India.

..... Digital literacy is another thing that influences the democracy these days. There must be proper education of people about digital literacy and how to react when incidents happen, these measures will help to form a democratic nation where all all people are aware of everything.

..... For Another problem that acts as the ~~centre~~ state relation hindrance of democracy is the improper centre-state relation. Disputes between central and state government must be resolved as they affect the meaning of democracy. Inclusive education regardless of caste, religion should be done without any problems.

To portray the real aspect of democracy, where everyone have the rights and chances to participate in a nation, proper awareness should be done. Unknown society should turn into knowledge society. The correct propagation of media is also needed to prevent fake news. All institutions of every country should inspect their own measures and also prevent corruption and exploitation over people. Security threats also should be removed. Legal institutions of legislature, execution and judiciary should follow the correct opinion of majority.

As the future of democracy, depends upon the past and present actions, all should be aware of the concepts and take necessary measures. The superior authorities should take appropriate actions maintaining equality. ~~W~~ Everyone shall always remember the words of Mahatma Gandhi that 'be the ~~see~~ change you wish to see in the world' and maintain the soul of nation, democracy true as our dream.
