ETERNAL BOND

Once upon a time in a quaint village nestled between rolling hills and lush forests, there lived two friends named Emily and James. Emily was adventurous, with eyes that sparkled like the stars in the night sky, while James was gentle, with a heart as vast as the endless horizon. They met when they were just children, playing in the meadows and climbing the tallest trees. Their laughter echoed through the village, and their friendship blossomed like the wildflowers in spring. As they grew older, life's challenges tested their bond. Emily's family faced financial struggles, while James grappled with the loss of his parents. Yet, through every storm, they stood by each other, lending strength and solace. Together, they embarked on countless adventures, exploring hidden caves, chasing after the rainbow's end, and dreaming of distant lands. Their friendship was a beacon of light, guiding them through the darkest of nights. But as they reached the threshold of adulthood, their paths diverged. Emily dreamt of traveling the world, while James longed to tend to the fields and nurture the land that had cradled them since childhood. Despite the miles that stretched between them, their bond remained unbreakable. They exchanged letters filled with tales of their adventures and shared dreams of a reunion under the same starlit sky. Then, one fateful day, fate intervened, bringing them together once more. Emily returned to the village, her heart heavy with the weight of the world, seeking solace in the familiar embrace of home. And there, under the old oak tree where they had first met, Emily and James reunited. Time melted away as they laughed and reminisced, their friendship igniting like a flame that had never dimmed. In each other's presence, they found solace, strength, and the courage to face life's uncertainties. Together, they realized that friendship, like the roots of the tallest tree, runs deep and unyielding, anchoring us through life's ever-changing tides. And so, amidst the backdrop of the setting sun, Emily and James stood side by side, their hearts intertwined in an eternal bond of friendship, knowing that no matter where life may lead them, they would always find their way back to each other.

Abandoned Black Cat's Starvation

A long time ago there lived a black cat abandoned by its owner because of the bad luck it gives it had nothing to eat for 3 whole weeks it was starving and craved to die cause it cant handle the pain. TZXhe cat was all bruised up can't even stand for itself But just as the cat's hope began to fade, a kind-hearted old woman named Lena stumbled upon the poor creature. She saw the cat's dreadful situation, as she approached, her eyes filled with tears and sympathy. Lena had always believed that true luck lies in helping those in need, regardless of who they were.

With her flower like hands, she carefully picked up the cat and hugged it with love. She noticed its black fur was dirty and full of dust hiding the true beauty that was underneath . Determined to nurse the cat back to its healthy self, she went home to treat the cat.

weeks later the cat's health slowly returned making it as healthy as possible. Lena took the cat under her care and named her Luna, she always told people that even in darkness there will be a hope of light.

MORAL: ALWAYS HELP OTHERS INNEED . A HAND OF HOPE WONT HURT YOU OR OTHERS

LIGHT WITHIN US

In a small village nestled among rolling hills there lived a young girl Susan. she was known for her unwavering optimism, despite the hardships her family faced. Their crops failed, and the village endured harsh winter, but Susan refused lose hope. One day, Susan was walking through the forest collecting firewood, she saw an injured bird. Its wing was broken, and it lay helpless on the forest floor. Susan gently picked up the bird and cradled it in her hand, with determination, she nursed it back to health. Every day, she would visit the bird, bringing food and water and tending to its injuries. As the days passed the bird grew stronger, and soon it was able to fly again. Filled with gratitude, the bird thanked Susan and promised to repay her kindness. Before flying away, it whispered in her ears, "Always remember no matter how the sky seems dark, there is a light within you that can never be extinguished." Inspired by the bird's words. Susan returned to her village with renewed hope. She shared the bird's message with her family and neighbours. Together they faced each challenge with courage and resilience & resilience, knowing that within them all burned a flicker of hope that could illuminate even the darkest days. Years passed, and the village flourished under Susan's guiding light. The once barren land now bloomed with crops, and though Susan grew old, her spirit remained as radiant ever, a beacon of hope for generations to come.

War and Peace

"Together till death"
your words brought peace to my mind.
And led me. the land of serenity.
to the We together made an ethereal life.

Unpredicted war
war of strive and grief
war of brutal conflicts just begun
I'm afraid of being separated from you

Terrifying sound of bullet-shots.
Tremour the heart of the people with fear
The bullet-shots of enmity
pierce the heart of the innocent.

I ran through the aisle
Blond blotch on the walls of lane
Cavaders scattered on the streets.
A clump of corpses.

I searched for you.
Through the streets
I saw you there;
You who lie dead among the corpses

I embraced you with desire
I'm yearning to have you back in my life.
I weeped out my tears.
My heart is shattered of anguish

How filthy our world is?
And how brute?
our Land was beautiful and bill.
Now it is a larid of death.

I stared into your eyes.
Deeming you'll look back with love.
These savages shot me
Those bullets pierced my seart.

Now I'm pleased.
Cause, I can complete my desired life
with my love in heaven.
And we can have our ethereal life back.

ELEPHANT AND ANT

This is the story of an elephant and an ant once, in a forest, there lived an elephant, He was very proud of his big size! He always troubled other animals in the forest and made fun of them! one day, as he was walking through the forest, he saw a Parrot sitting on a tree. Ha ha ha. a Parrot Hey, you! what are you doing there? Don't you see me passing through! I am the most powerful animal of the forest! come on. Bow down to me! what bow down to you? what? you don't don't know who you are talking to! I will teach you to respect me! Ha ha ha ha The Parrot didn't bow down to the elephant! The angry elephant picked up the whole tree and began to shake it! The Parrot could not sit on that tree anymore! He Flew away... Ha ha ha ha. See what I can do? you all are so weak in front of me? Ha ha ha ha..... The proud elephant then walked away. Like always, he went to the river to drink water. just beside the river, there lived an ant in a small ant hill.

Every day the ant would collect food and every day the elephant would bother the ant. Today was no different! As the elephant saw the ant was drinking water, he you, tiny ant! where are you taking the food? I have to take this back to my house! It will start raining soon. I have to prepare and collect a lot of food Ha ha ha ha.... I see! The elephant then drew water in his big trunk and sprayed it on the ant! The water spoiled the food and the ant was completely wet! Ha ha ha ha... Laugh all you want elephant! I will teach you a lesson someday, oh! I'm Scared! a tiny Ant wants to teach me a lesson go away! I might crush you under my feet! throw back to your tiny house! The ant was very angry at the elephant and his pride.. She swore she will soon teach him a lesson. I will have to do something about this elephant! He can't keep troubling everyone like that! The next day, as the ant stepped out to collect more food, she saw that the elephant was sleeping, she immediately came up with a Plan! she quietly walked near him and slipped inside his trunk. once inside, she began to bite him! She kept biting the elephant until he woke up she and he kept biting the elephant started screaming in pain! my trunk hurts so bad! who is inside Get out of there! it's hurts so bad Annh.... The ant heard him screaming and kept biting! the elephant was now in a lot of pain. He began to cry! Anhh.... ohhh... Somebody please help me! Ahhh..... please! who... who is inside my trunk! get out! The ant heard the elephant's cries and came out of his trunk. The elephant was shocked to see the tiny ant! He was so afraid that he would bite him again so he began to apologize."Please Forgive me!

' Please Forgive me! I will never trouble you again!'.Elephant understood his mistake He left from there. "and he never troubled anybody after that day. he.... hehe..... Now you see? Nobody is big or small we all are capable our own ways. Don't be proud of your skills. use it to help others!

A FRIENDSHIP TO BE TOLD

At the town of Palayam was a 30 story flat. On the 21th room of the flat lived an average Family. Robert a bussinesman of 40 was the paterfamilias of the family. Robert was a gentleman who dressed really well. He had black hair with blue eyes. He was married to Julie and had a daughter Stacy. Julie was house wife and always worked at the kitchen. She was 40 year old with black hairs and brown eyes. Stacy was a young girl of 9. She was always very energetic and liked to talk a lot she had black hair and brown eyes like her mom. One day stacy asked her father who was the people standing next to him in the photo which was stationed next to the television. Julie gave off a sad face when Robert's eyes filled with tears. with a smile he started talking. "oh stacy its a really long story". "they were my childhood friends Henry and Ben. We were known as the trio in my hometown and collage. I was the one good at studies Henry was good at sports And Ben was good at arts and literature on the third month of the collage I met a beautiful girl at that moment I decided that I was the one who was going to marry that girl. A few weeks later with the support of Henry and Ben I asked the girl if she likes me" and guess what she said yes. That was your mom." Julie smiled for a second in the kitchen before turning sad again. Robert continued. But what I didn't know was that another guy liked your mom soon after he threatened me and your mom and my Family. One day he startled me and hit me in my face. So my Friends and Family helped me escape my town" Robert paused for a second. Stacy asked Robert "are you okay dad" Robert continued. "Turns out that guy had some mental problems and then killed Henry. and Ben later committed suicide" Stacy looked at Robert's face to find out that tears were running down his face.

OH WHAT A DAY

It was the hot days of the summer vacation. 'Hi my name is Robest that is the name of a young boy Filled with curiosity. He made a lot of Friends. This is the incident that occured to him. It was another lonely day of the summer vacation period. But poor the young boy all his Frennds were out for the vacation and the boy's parant's didnt take him anywere. So he was a little sad All of his Friends were gone too, he had no one to play with and felt lonely. Thats when an idea came to his mind. He had heard about the mysterious cave at the river near his house. No one has ever been inside that cave before. so that rose his cusiocity. He wanted to be the First to explore it. So he didn't waste another second. He took his bag Flash light and some snacks. He reached the river but it was all dried up. He quickly ran and Found the cave. It was really dark so he turned on his Flash light and moved forward Still, he was scared. He was frozen when he heard the sound of the bats for the first time. He walked for at least 15 minutes but for him it was half an hour. He Finally reached the end. But The Floor begain to fall as he fell and rolled down to what it seemed like another cave. He was really tired and his body was in pain because he fell down. He looked around and he could see only one path leading to darkness He didnt know what to do at that time so he tried to the climb to the cave he was in before but he couldnt. so be continued walking down the only path he could fee while praying to the gods that he want to get home by the time his Favorate cartoon starts. Soon after his Flashlight ran out of energy. He really scared and started to cry But he didnt lose confidence and started walking the path he was going. He was really hungry and wanted to eat his snacks but, he knew that it was not the right time nor the right place. So he continued till he touched water when he first touched it he was happy and he felt achill down his spine.

And there in the water he saw Light and thanked the god and swam out of the cave but to his surprise It was the river. The same viver near his house, The same river where the entrance of cave was. He sat down eating his snacks thinking "OH WHAT A DAY.
