LIBRARIES

Libraries are treasure – troves . Book, it is said, are man best companions, Ruskin compares,. Books to king treasures in his famous book . “sesame and lilies” books possess more valuable things than gold. Yes,you understand right knowledge . Knowledge that is more powerful than the strongest muscles in the world. Book had always been constant companions of great – men and renowned poets.

Now a days in all towns and many villages large buildings are found to house a collection of book which are the property of the public. In metropolitan cities libraries abound with several facilities. Books are lent to permanent members . Some reference book can be consulted within the premises . A yearly premium is charged to avail the various facilities offered . A library has a large reading room where daily and weekly newspapers can be read . In addition to the newspapers, magazines in different languages are also available . Many poor students find it in an ideal place to study in the quiet and comfortable room of the library . So also , students whose homes are overcrowded and noisy, find it a heaven of refuge to read and write in an atmosphere of peace .

STRONG OR WEAK

There was a proud teak tree in the forest . He was tall and strong. There was a small herb next to the tree. The teak tree said : " I am very handsome and strong. No one can defeat me" . Hearing this the herb replied , " dear friend, too much pride is harmful. Even the strong will fall one day". The teak ignored the herb's words. He continued to praised himself . One day a strong wind blew . The teak stood firmly by spreading its leaves. At the same time the herb bowed low . The teak made fun of the herb . One day there was a storm in the forest . The herb bowed low . As usual the teak did not bear it. He felt his strength giving away. He fell away . This was the end of the proud tree.

When everything was calm the herb stood straight . He looked around . He saw the proud tree as fallen

ENVIRONMENTAL POLLUTION

Prevention of environmental pollution depends upon the awareness of man. We inhale oxygen and exhale carbon dioxide and plants through photosynthesis protect the equilibrium of oxygen and carbon dioxide. If there are no plants to counter balance the loss of oxygen, life will become impossible.

Now a days environmental pollution has become a major threat to living creatures. Air pollution due to industrialization and urbanization has become a general phenomenon in all cities and even villages are not free from it.

The domestic and industrial waste thrown into water sources cause water pollution. The insecticides and pesticides used for agricultural purpose pollute the soil and reach the human body through vegetables, fruits and food grains. Noise pollution is harmful to mankind. It adversely affects our hearing power, nervous system and circulatory system.

Indeed pollution of any type is a 'silent killer.' A safe environment is the key of healthy living. Student must contribute whatever we can to reduce pollution.

The DONKEY AND THE BULL (STORY)

Long ago ,on a prosperous farm , a farmer lived with his family . He had a bull and a donkey on his farm . This farmer had a special talent .He could understand the language of animals .

One day ,while he was feeding the animals ,he heard a conversation between the bull and the donkey .

The bull said morosely, my friend , you are so lucky. Everyday I have to wake up early in the morning . The farmer puts a heavy plough on my back and I have till fields the whole day . But look at you ,all that is expected of you is to go to washman with clothes'.

The donkey nodded sympathetically .

The bull continued complaining , The food I do.'The donkey replied , The problem is you are bright and chirpy every morning. You look well and healthy and so the farmer makes you work hard. But I always hang my head and walk slowly for me. Why don't you follow my example? I am sure you will get some rest '.

The bull was delighted . He said ,will do as you say and laze about for a day '.

The farmer had heard and understood the entire conversation. The animals were unaware of the farmer's talent and slept peacefully that night.

Next morning at sunrise ,the bull suddenly acted sick . The farmer came to wake him up and give him food but the bull kept on sleeping with his face huge down . The helpers reported to the farmer that since the bull was unwell, tilling would have to be stopped that day . The clever farmer however knew what the problem was. He told the helper's ,We cannot stop tilling the land so far today, put the plough on the donkey's back and continue tilling .

The helper carried out the farmer's orders and the donkey tilled the donkey returned to the farm ,the overjoyed bull said ,I owe this rest to you . I feel so.

MALALA YOUSAFZAI

MODERN
FIGHTER'

Malalah yusafzay was born on 12 july 1997 in pakistan. She is known for her activism for rights to education and for women , where the taliban had at times banned girls from attending school. Yousafzai, was educated by her father, Ziauddin Yousafzai, who is a poet, school owner, and an educational activist himself, running a chain of school. She once started to an interviewer that she would like to become a doctor, though later her father encouraged her to become a politician. Yousafzai started speaking about education rights as early as september 2008, when her father took her to Peshawar to speak at the local press club. " How dare the Taliban take away my basic rights to education ?"Yousafzai asked her audience in a speech covered by newspaper and television channel throughout the region. As Yousafzai became more recognized, the danger facing her became more acute.Death threats against her were published in newspaper and slipped under her door. She began to receive threats and fake profiles in facebook. When none of this worked, a Taliban spokesman says they were "forced" to act. In a meeting held in the summer of 2012, Taliban leaders unanimously agreed to kill her. On 9 october 2012, a Taliban gunman shot Yousafzai as she rode home on a bus after taking an exam in pakistan's swat valley. The masked gunman shouted "which one of is malala? Speak up otherwise Iwill shoot you all" , and, on her being identified, shot at her. She was hit with one bullet, which went through her head,neck, and ended in her shoulder. Tow other girls wrer also wounded in the shooting. The assassination attempt sparked anational and international outpouring of support for Yousafzai for the BBC detailing her life under Taliban rule, and her views on promoting education for girls. Yousafzai rose in prominence, giving interviews in print and on television, and she was nominated for the international children's peace prize by South African activist Desmond Tutu. She becomes " the most famous teenagar in the world " she was the winner of Pakistan's first National Youth peace prize and was nominated for the 2013 Nobel Peace prize. United Nations special Envoy for Global Education Gordon Brown launched a UN pettion in Yousafzai name, using the slogan "I am MALALA " and demanding that all children worldwide be in school by the end of 2015. On 12 july 2013, Yousafzai 's 16th birthday , she spokes at the UN to call for worldwide access to education The UN dubbed the event " Malala" Day . It was her first public speech since the attack, leading the first even Youth Takeover of the UN, with an audience of over 500 young education advocates from around the world. PUNCTUALITY(SONA B 9A)

Punctuality means reaching a given place in time. It may be your school , college , office , a party or a time fixed for meeting somebody. It is a great virtue. Those who are punctual are liked by everyone while those who keep others waiting are often criticized. Sometimes, those who do not care about meeting the schedule of time have to suffer a lot. They miss their train , bus or aeroplane. Those students who reach the school late are not allowed to enter. They miss the day's lessons and have to seek other's help to complete their notebooks. MY MOTHER

My mother is an affectionate and pious lady , She loves me very much . I love her, too. She takes care of all of us. She gets up early in the morning, makes our breakfast, lunch and dinner with her own hands. She looks after the cleanliness of the house and furniture, and also our clothes and health. When I fall sick , my mother passes sleepless nights by the side of my sick bed. Her anxiety and her fear disappear after my recovery from illness. In my eyes, she is really an ideal mother. My mother has taught me the importance of discipline, good manners, honesty, sense of duty and reverence towards the elders in life. She also taught me to defend and help the poor and the weak, and lodge a protest against injustice. When I was just a child, my mother used to tell me many oriental and mythological tales. When I grew up a little, she taught me how to read and write. Even to this day, she helps me to prepare my homework given by my class teacher. In every matter of my life depend on my life depend on my mother's help and guidance: Her blessing are always with me.

The lion and lazy fox (STORY)

Once there lived a lion king named shrek. He was very kind and generous to his fellow beings and all the animals and birds loved him. His fame spread to other forest as well.

Once, a lazy fox came to their forest hoping that he will live a king eating tasty flesh everyday. He thought this forest was much better than the one he lived in and dreamt of hunting down plum deer ,rabbit etc which was abundant in the forest of shrek. He went to greet the king but could not find him in his cave. He waited for long but could not see the king. He later thought of seeing the forest and hunt some food because he was feeling very hungry. Deep inside the forest he saw some plumpy rabbits playing. He could not hunt them down because the lion king shrek was seen playing with them. He walked stealthily and hid himself behind a tree. The cunning fox started to leap on a rabbit saw him. Started, the baby rabbit started crying and the lion came running to his side. shrek saw the fox and asked , 'O king, I live in the nearby forest where all animals live happily and in harmony.'

The king was very happy to hear about the fame of his kingdom through the fox. The king expressed his gratitude by offering him space to rest giving him the best fruits in his forest to get rid of his hunger. At last the fox told the king oh king I am thanful for all that you did now I would like to go back to my forest and join my family. I will always remember you. The king agreed and bid him good bye by giving him more fruits to carry home.

Alas!The cunning fox had to return home with fruits instead of meat he had dreamt of. Seeing the fox returning home with fruits,his friends teased him .Ashamed to face his friends he remained home for days. His mother shouted at him asked him to go out and hunt food . But the lazy fox would not listen and sat back spending time food that his mother brought. One day the mother fox hit the lazy fox and threw him out of her cave. The lazy fox wandered for days without food and understand his mistake . His forest had everything he needed but his laziness is what made him think that the other forest was better than his home forest. He understood his mistake and from then on he and from then on he hunted his own food and lived happily in his forest
