My Dream World.....

*When i opened my eyes
The world ,our mother'
was full of green in colour
Everywhere greenery
I can hear the chirping sound of bird
Sound of cool breeze,
How seer was the world*

*But ,now I can' t see the greenery
Only black,dark,smoke,coming from factories and only pollution
Water pollution,air pollution, sound pollution it never ends.*

*No rain in raining season
What a world is this?
People are killing mother
Our mother.....
If we put our hands together
We can bring our mother back as she was before
Let' s join our hands
To save our Mother.....*

My own Way....

My time is flying

Like the bird on sky

I am trying to catch it

But its going out of my hand....

Some one is shooting me to down

I' m not gonna let it happen

There is no baddy to catch me down

Let it be anything

I will go up

As much as I can....

My dear God

Please hear my words

Let my dream to be a precious one

One day, I can sure

I will find my own way

To my own world

I will wait for it

Be it any day or night

The Pigeon

It was a Sunday. I and my friends were playing football. At that time, I saw a pigeon which was in a problem. It was on a Teak tree. We go to the side of the tree and looked the pigeon. When we looked at it, it try to fly. But it can' t. Because its leg was tied with a thread which was tied on the branch of that tree. It was 4' o clock, many people going to town, they saw the pigeon. They tried to help, but they can' t climb the tree. After some times, my friend -Rahees came. Then he climbed the tree and asked me to give him a ling stick with a hook. We gave him a stick. He tried to cut the thread. After sometimes, he succeeded .The pigeon come down but it did not fell down, Rhees come down and go to home. Then we played football.

Losing....

*Pain of lose is overpowered,
Continuously hearting the heart
Feeling heart broken for mankind,
Mankind fallen to a depth,
A deep dark depth*

*Forsaken the relations,
Cut outing the friendship,
Deteriorating of Nature
All for some paper pieces
Some colourful paper pieces.*

*Relation seems so far
As it really near
All intuitive is expressed
Expressed through a huge
A huge tossed web*

*Divinity of the clan
Quietly get impact on society
As in the markets only hears,
Hears the sound of cruelty
All for insuring the corruption*

DREAM

I made a paper boat,
Small, red and softy,
Like a blooming flower
Flowed through the river
So but sank into the deep,
Like a wrecked ship...

I made a boat with plastic bottle
Moved like a golden shark
But failed my attempt again
Like a kite that flew a way
I didn't feel desperation

I made a boat with wooden blocks
Harden, brewing, big and made
It's engine, like a yellow duck
Made it force to the ocean
Felt as glittering diamond
It's my hope, It's my dream.

SILVER AND GOLD

The light shimmers in our hearts
Christmas is the time of year where Families come together

Silver shines with hopes and dreams
Gold glimmers with love and peace
But when both come together,
We all rejoice with joy

The colours consume our hearts and bring happiness...
Through tiny children with hopes and toys,
These colours bring us together for christmas
For christmas is not only about gifts
Its about family coming together.

INVISIBLE CRIMINAL FACES.....

One day, in a clear tone i was walking through the town, passed a few shops, abruptly i heard a noise from back. I turned back, sharply one hit me and i fell down to other side and he was following by a police. Two more polices where also there. Suddenly the police shoot the man and the man carried by the other police men. Soon i was tempted to know about him. I asked many about him but nobody knows him clearly. At last i found his home. I passed its gate and slowly entered to the house...

I saw an old lady sitting on the corner. By seeing me she shouted: “why are you here ? aren’t you from the media. Get out of my house”. I tried to pacify her. Soon she felt good on me. And started to say: “you wanted to know about him. Isn’t it? He is my son, kevin jonas. He was chef, also a serving boy in 5-star hotel”. I asked curiously: “what happen to him?”she continued: “He was married, about one year and her name is chelsy. They loved so much. Don’t you know about the multimillionaire.

Nipah virus infection

The Nipah virus is a type of RNA virus in the genus Henipavirus. It can both spread between people and from other animals to people. Spread typically requires direct contact with an infected source. The virus normally circulates among specific types of fruit bats. Diagnosis is based on symptoms and confirmed by laboratory testing.

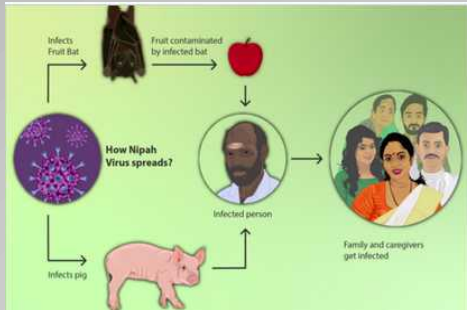

Signs and symptoms

The symptoms start to appear after 5–14 days from exposure. Initial symptoms are fever, headache, drowsiness followed by disorientation and mental confusion. These symptoms can progress into coma as fast as in 24–48 hours. Encephalitis, inflammation of the brain, is a potentially fatal complication of Nipah virus infection. Respiratory illness can also be present during the early part of the illness. Nipah-case patients who have breathing difficulty are more likely than those without respiratory illness to transmit the virus, as are those who are more than 45 years of age. The disease is suspected in symptomatic individuals in the context of an epidemic outbreak.

- Outbreak in Kerala

In May 2018, an outbreak was reported in the Kozhikode district of Kerala,

India.[29] Twenty one deaths[30] were recorded, including one healthcare worker among a total of 23 cases.

Those who have died were mainly from the districts of Kozhikode and Malappuram, including a 31-year-old nurse, who was treating patients infected with the virus. Two of the infected made a complete recovery. On 10 June 2018, the outbreak was officially declared to be over.

Diagnosis

Laboratory diagnosis of Nipah virus infection is made using reverse transcriptase polymerase chain reaction (RT-PCR) from throat swabs, cerebrospinal fluid, urine and blood analysis during acute and convalescent stages of the disease. IgG and IgM antibody detection can be done after recovery to confirm Nipah virus infection. Immunohistochemistry on tissues collected during autopsy also confirms the disease. Viral RNA can be isolated from the saliva of infected persons.

Prevention

Prevention of Nipah virus infection is important since there is no effective treatment for the disease. The infection can be prevented by avoiding exposure to bats in endemic areas and sick pigs.

Drinking of raw palm sap (palm toddy) contaminated by bat excrete, eating of fruits partially consumed by bats and using water from wells infested by bats should be avoided.

Bats are known to drink toddy that is collected in open containers, and occasionally urinate in it, which makes it contaminated with the virus. Surveillance and awareness are important for preventing future outbreaks. The association of this disease within reproductive cycle of bats is not well studied. Standard infection control practices should be enforced to prevent nosocomial infections. A subunit vaccine using the Hendra G protein was found to produce cross-protective antibodies against henipavirus and nipavirus has been used in monkeys to protect against Hendra virus, although its potential for use in humans has not been studied.

Treatment

Currently there is no specific treatment for Nipah virus infection as of 2019. The mainstay of treatment is to supportive care. Standard infection control practices and proper barrier nursing techniques are recommended to avoid the spread of the infection from person to person. All suspected cases of Nipah virus infection should be isolated. While tentative evidence supports the use of ribavirin, it has not yet been studied in people with the disease. Specific antibodies have also been studied in an animal model with potential benefit. Acyclovir and favipiravir has also been tried, as has remdesivir.

Immunization

Passive immunization using a human monoclonal antibody- m102.4 that targets the ephrin-B2 and ephrin-B3 receptor binding domain of the henipavirus Nipah G glycoprotein has been evaluated in the ferret model as post-exposure prophylaxis. The anti-malarial drug chloroquine was shown to block the critical functions needed for maturation of Nipah virus, although no clinical benefit has yet been observed. m102.4, has been used in people on a compassionate use basis in Australia and was in pre-clinical development in 2013.

A Winter Night.....

It was a cold snowy night .Every one was in a hurry to go to their houses .Then was a little girl going to her house. She was a member of the church chorus . She was from a poor family .Her father had no job .Her mother was a house servent . She had only a small skarf to pervent cold . The cold was becoming more and more wild . She was not able to walk . She was freezing .Then she saw an old man coming to her . He asked that if she had any problem . She said that she was freezing . Then he took his sweater and gave it to the girl. She felt some relife from the cold . She then thanked him and gave a sweet to him and went to home . Next morning , she decided to go and see the old man . She went to the same place . She saw an unplaesant scene . She saw the old man lying dead in the snow . There was a sweet that the girl gave it to him in his hand . She sat and cride near him....

CORONA VIRUS

‘Coronaviruses’ are a group of viruses that cause diseases in mammals and birds. In human viruses cause respiratory infections including the Common Cold. Which are typically mild. Rarer forms such as SARS, MERS the novel CORONAVIRUS causing the 2019-20 WUHAN corona virus outbreak can be lethal. In cows and pigs coronaviruses cause Diarrhoea. In chickens they cause an upper respiratory tract infection. There are no drugs that are approved for prevention or treatment.

SEVERE ACUTE RESPIRATORY SYNDROME
[SARS]

SARS was first recognised as a distinct strain of coronavirus in 2003. The source of the virus has never been clear though the first human infections can be traced back to the Chinese province of Guangdong in 2002

MIDDLE EAST RESPIRATORY SYNDROME [MERS]

MERS was first identified in Saudi Arabia in 2012 in people displaying symptoms of fever, cough, shortness of breath and occasionally gastrointestinal problems such as diarrhoea. An animal source for the virus has never been officially confirmed, though evidence points to dromedary camels as a potential reservoir of infection.

NATURE

NATURE in the broadest sense, is the natural, physical or material world or universe. NATURE can refer to the phenomena of the physical world, and also to life in general. It is not the only part of science. The words nature and natural are used for all the things that are normally not made by humans. Things like weather, organisms, landforms, celestial bodies and much more are parts of nature. Scientists study the way the parts of nature work. Things that have been made by people are said to be man made or called artifacts. NATURE is the alpha and omega of life. Man came into being out of nature. Man cannot exist for a second. The oxygen that he inhales. Fruits, vegetables, clothes, wood, iron, gold, diamond and every thing he receives from the bountiful hands of nature
