

Social media and society

Technologies are developing day by day. Most of the people in our society are becoming dependent on social media. Even a child is born to social media. It's influence in human life is increasing each day. A society is the key factor of a nation. A society includes a new-born child to a old man. Each and every aspect that comes over a society will definitely affect the nation. So building up a society with good moral values are very essential for the development of a country. A society is the thing that defines a nation. The influence of social media on a society are increasing. This influence of social media helps a society in creating a good nation as well as in destroying the people's peaceful minds.

The human dependence on social media is huge. Of course social media is one of the greatest inventions of humans. It is a giant leap for the mankind. Social media has made our life easier.

It helps us in various ways. Social media helps us to maintain our relations without bothering about the distance. Social media mainly helps a student in his or her academic life. It made it easier for the students. It helped to reduce their stress. It helped to reduce their time and make things faster. Social media paves a great way for students. It also helps each and every persons in the society. It also entertains us in various ways. By a lot of jokes, cinemas, cartoons etc. It's like social media is becoming a part of our daily life. The impact of social media has grown so far that many of us can't even to imagine a life without it. It influence a little child. Parents are letting their children to use social media for fun which are always an entertainment for them. The role of social media sites like internet in education is huge. It even helps teachers in the progress of education. They could use social media for clearing the doubts of their students and also for their own use.

Social media also helps in the progress of science. Each and every inventions that comes to the society goes through social media. Of course, man is a social animal. He can't live without social media in this modern world.

Our modern world, is filled with social networking sites. It can be found in each and every corner of the world. The role of social media in any scientific inventions are considerable. It gives knowledge about everything in nature. We could say that social media is the greatest inventions of the mankind. We, humans are the ones who created the social media. But, nowadays we are using it for creating various things. This modern world, living in the times of social networking sites could not even imagine its destruction. From this, we could understand the influence of social media in a society. Social media plays a major role in the development of a society as well as in its destruction.

..... We should always know the two sides of a coin. That is the advantages and disadvantages in every thing. We all know that social media has many advantages and disadvantages than any other things compared to others. Social media is one of the aspects in the modern world which has equal number of advantages and disadvantages. What would be the answer for the question 'is social media a boon or a treat'. Of course social media is a boon for the society as well as a threat. The role of social media in education, scientific progress, knowledge and any other inventions are considered to be its boon.

..... But social media could also be a threat to the society at the same time. There comes a question in the mind of every individual that are they too dependent on social media. These statement is not completely true. Because the impact of social media has grown so far that an individual is nothing without it in this modern world. Even though Social media has many disadvantages. We could make them useful by realising its negative and positive sides. Each advantage made by the social media has its own disadvantage. The students are becoming more addicted on social media. Students are the key factor of a society. Without them a society will surely perish. If we want a society to develop we should look forward for the development of its students. The impact of social media on students are huge.

These sites take away the children from their families. If they are addicted to it they will start spending more time in front of these sites than their families and friends. Which in turn take away their happiness. These type of addiction will lead to eye problems too. The usage of these networking sites not only lead to physical problems but also to some mental changes. The more time the students spend in front of social media the more their minds will get lonely. These sort of loneliness will lead to mental harassment. These social media also makes a student lazy enough to be nothing. They use internet for any assignments and project which leads to laziness. Their mind will be empty. A student's mind should always be filled with various ideas and thoughts. But social media stops them from increasing their imagination. Social networking sites will even lead to crimes in some situations. The major threat of social media is addiction which leads to many problems. We should build up a safer environment for the coming generations. Every thought we think is creating our future. We should think great and achieve great and give it to coming generation. The side effects of social media are huge. Social media is of course a boon and a threat. The problems and murders caused by social media are increasing in our society. This is due to the increase use of social networking sites. The society is going backwards due to the effects of social media. The negative impact created by social media to our surrounding is large. We should try to reduce it. The impact of society on social media should be reduced. We know the side effects of social media. It is increasing nowadays due to human activities. We are the one's who are destroying our society. Social media can become a topic of conversation nowadays only because of us. It was created for the good but now using for the worse. We created it for our development but now it is turning its head because of our deeds.

But nothing could be a waste if considered in good ways. Of course social media is getting worse nowadays. But we should never forget about its advantages. Social media plays a big role in building up a development society. It could be useful to children, young and old and everyone. This world does not belong to only us. We should handover a safer environment and surrounding to our coming generation. We could use social media by understanding both its advantages and disadvantages. Social media play a major role in moulding up a great society.

..... This modern world, living in a developed era can't imagine a day without internet and other social networking sites. Even though social media has more advantages it could also be destructive for us if not used in the good way. The influence of a social media on a society is increasing. We could make social media the best inventions of human by using only the positive sides of it. Every thought we are thinking is creating our future. So we should always think good and create a better future. Nothing could be destructive if we use anything be fully realizing its two sides. We should only use social media for good deeds and should handover a safer surrounding for the coming generation. We are the one's who created it, so we are the one's who should control it. If social media is thrilling today it will kill you someday. So use it in its best ways and create a good future.
