Dream of a Refugee

All we ask!

Purple veins strained against my skin
translucent and paper thin

Hey! Just listen to our pleas I'm just an old man
witnessing all your deeds

Everyone say Earth
is our home

But, can you explain
why do we still roam!

All we ask for
is a place to live
and to feed

all our wandering creed.

Mothers press their children to chest

Even if they don't know what to do next!

All we ask for
is just a bed
to lay our infant's heads

All we ask is to lend a hand
so we could hold on
and stand.

We don't need a yard or barn
just a little space
so we could return back.

after all, people outside would never know us inside

We migrate from one place to another

All we ask for them is to bother
Even if they don't care.

I grew old lonely and hopeless never wanted my children to feel homeless

We don't wish for a flat
All we want is two roofs which won't
fall apart.

We are a catastrophic mess our pleas may not

stand with your interests

Our home is a song
not yet sung

All we need is people to realize we are one of them.

Our feet paddle through the scorching heat

To find a place to live

All we need is harmony and peace

All we ask is to give us love instead of hate!

and may they share
what's in their plate.

children ~~to~~ cry and
ask for home

All I could show them
is the nearby lone lawn

It's been ages
since we slept

All we could do was to accept the fate we bore

Just wanted to stop
this endless run
and to stay still

You may be still in home after last day's hangover
but we are thriving
to ease of loved ones hunger

I am too old .
and I have been told
that we may never find a place to hold on !

All we ask is to realize that we are all refugees in this world we live
It's us today !
homeless and sick
gazing at the world
with heavy eyes .

~~It~~

The world was never ours to begin with
it would be never !

Hear
~~Here~~ the dreams of this refugee only if you ~~care~~ care !
