

Item Code: 695

Participant Code:17

A LENDING HAND OF COMPASSION"

I never felt any kind of compassion after my mothers death. I felt true loneliness and sometimes felt so sufficiated without her presence gradually I transed into a peason with no kind of feeling or compassion towards my fellow beings. When I sat in my office I saw vaindoops pouring down. This awakened a story. which made me realize, what true compassion is. I was toansferred to New York after my mom's death. I slowly realized that the place was something to be discovered. So I took a day. leave and roamed around the Times Square. Suddenly something stauck my eyes. A old lady with a wainkled face begging too money. The thing was that she already had enough money to satisfy her needs for one day. I asked the nearby flower seller about the lady. He said that "She is a mad dd lady sto, nobody knows about here. Every night she disappears into the bakery! Nothing more spitted out from his mouth. This evoked curiosity

(Note: Graded articles may be published in schoolwiki. So, Write neatly. Don't fold paper. Don't write overleaf).

Item Code: 695

Participant Code: 17

in me I thought to myself, "Where would have she disappeared?" Any way I took up this case myself and decided to follow here like a spy, just like sheelook Holmes. So I got up early in the morning that day was a gloomy one, early monsoon winds shook the leaves. I put on my coat and sushed towards Times square. As usual, the place was conjusted with people, sushing towards their offices and admist them I saw my old lady, begging here and there for a penny. All I could do was wait there bill she headed towards the bakery.

The small bakery was not satisfying. It was nather spooky one I came across the lady and asked a bit audely, "what is your name?". She happily smiled and with a humming sound she walked past me I was astonished. I thought that maybe I was not scary at all. It was around night. The street became less conjusted and the old lady was walking past me with all the money in her hand.

(Note: Graded articles may be published in schoolwiki. So, Write neatly. Don't fold paper. Don't write overleaf).

I was waiting outside opposite to the bakery for her . After couple of minutes of waiting nothing happened. I took up all my courage and opened the door to the bakery. Samething made me feel that the shop owner was not so gentle and he was less 'human-like'. I asked rather weekly "Where did the old lady go?" He just grined his teeth and said "Thate none of your business! On further pleading he said that "I will show you the way to her, only if you give give me your coat". Without a second thought I handed the coat to him. He showed me a creeky cloor asked me to follow it.

An inner feeling told me that it ok! I always considered my mothers compassion faded from me But now something bought it back. The clow lead to a slum, I think it was the worst slum I had ever seen. I thought to myself, "How could people live here?"

Grathering all the courage I moved.

(Note: Graded articles may be published in schoolwiki. So, Write neatly. Don't fold paper. Don't write overleaf).

So, Write neatly. Don't fold paper. Don't write overleaf).

| forward I saw a light blinking dimly. I headed |
|---|
| towards the light on moving further I could see |
| some people gathered around the light. On further |
| movement I realized that they weren't people told but |
| children. Suddenly I stopped I couldn't control my |
| emotions. And I coiled again after my mom's death. |
| About ten to fifteen people, no, small |
| children with no hands, or, no legs. Some were injuried |
| boutally. She was feeding all of them, gently one by |
| one. I suddenly remembered about my mum. At that |
| time I felt that she was still with me, as a past of |
| ml |
| My mother had the same compassion |
| towards children. I had seen such kindness and caping |
| in my mum and had he and about Mother Teresa, who |
| sacraficed here life for helpless people. Suddenly she noticed |
| me. 2 didn't knew what to do at that time. After |
| coying for a lot of ome, I left there, helplessly emples . |
| understanding that all my dollars were in the coat |
| |

Page No: 04

(Note: Graded articles may be published in schoolwiki.

| The frost thing I aid the next day |
|--|
| was to inform the UNRSCO about the slums that |
| tented lost cophans and injured people. Suddenly I |
| felt that my mother's compassion for all was still |
| living with me inside my heart, buried for a long |
| ome I though its time to dig it up. |
| Even after thinking about it, I knew |
| that all I did was a small lending hand of compassion, |
| if compared with the old lady. The another suppossing |
| thing was, after a few days the shopkeeper handed |
| me my dollars and left without saying anything. |
| Yeshooday mooning I found a small folded paper. It |
| was yellowish in colour, coumbled and with a rusty |
| nib, it was carried, "THANK You", in big bold letters. |
| I was super that it was the old lady. I searched for |
| her But to my disappointment I didn't find her. |
| The Next day, the last page of |
| 'Baker Street', the daily newspaper magazine in my |
| area reported about the death of an old bady. The |
| The state of the s |

Item Code: ...

695 Participant Code: 17

| paper reported that she was starved to death. The |
|--|
| pictures to of the lady boaught team to my eyes. It was |
| the lady who begged day and night to feed someone's |
| children. Yet no one was there to feed her. |
| Even though we people refused |
| to help coodinary people, begging in the streets, almighty |
| God will shody see them. God has already reserved |
| a seat for her in Heaven. I like to think that she is |
| not an old lady, but an angel in our world. But the |
| fact is that there are no eyes to see this angel and |
| I was wondering wheather there are still anges hidden. |
| in our world to feed the empty stomach. |
| The next moment travalized |
| that there is an angel brailed deep beneath our heart. |
| But the thing is everyone can't dig it up, and those who |
| haven't even tried once is going to face utten failure. |
| |
| |
| |