WATER

Water is one of the most precious gifts of nature. Human beings do not understand the value scientist have predicted that in years to come more than half of the population will live on absolute Water. All of us must take a pledge to save water. Every year “World Water Day” is celebrated on 22nd March. The day focuses on the importance of the fresh water and advocates for sustainable management of water resources. Every drop of water must be preserved. We can conserve water in pounds and tanks. Rainwater harvesting can be done. We should try our best to use water continuously.

Thakazhi Sivasankara Pillai

Thakazhi Sivasankara Pillai (17 April 1912– 10 April 1999), popularly known as Thakazhi after his place of birth, was an Indian novelist and short story writer of Malayalam literature. He wrote over 30 novels and novellas and over 600 short stories focusing on the lives of the oppressed classes. Known for his works such as Kayar (Cair, 1978) and Chemmeen (Prawns, 1956), Pillai was a recipient of the Padma Bhushan, the third highest Indian civilian award. He was also a recipient of the Njanapeedam, India's highest literary award, awarded in 1984 for the novel Kayar. He died on April 10, 1999, at the age of 86, survived by his wife, who died on June 1, 2011. Literary career His first short story was Daridran (The Poor) which was published in 1929. After many short stories, he wrote Thyagathinu Prathiphalam (Fruits of sacrifice) in 1934 which primarily dealt with the social injustices prevalent during that time. This was the first of his 39 novels; he also published 21 anthologies composed of over 600 short stories, two plays and four memoirs. Pillai's literary works are known to portray the society in Kerala in the mid-20th century. His political novel, Randidangazhi (Two Measures, 1948), projected the evils of the feudal system that prevailed in Kerala then, especially in Kuttanad. In 1956, Pillai published his love epic Chemmeen (Prawns), which was a departure from his earlier line of realism and the novel received critical acclaim, becoming the first post-colonial Indian novel to be translated into English; the English translation was accepted into the Indian Series of UNESCO Collection of Representative Works.[11] It told a tragic love story against the backdrop of a fishing village in Alappuzha. His next notable work was Enippadikal (Rungs of the Ladder), published in 1964, which traces the careerism of an ambitious bureaucrat whose lust for power and position becomes his own undoing. The novel was adapted into a movie in 1973 by Thoppil Bhasi. Anubhavangal Paalichakal.

Awards and honours

Pillai wrote Kayar (Cair) in 1978, a long novel extending to over 1000 pages, covering the history of several generations in Kuttanad for over 200 years and is considered by many as his masterpiece, in spite of the popularity of Chemmeen.

Some memorable thoughts of Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam will always become motivational for all

If you want to shine like a sun. First burn like a sun.

All of us do not have equal talent. But, all of us have an equal opportunity to develop our talents.

Thinking should become your capital asset, no matter whatever ups and downs you come across in your life.

Man needs difficulties in life because they are necessary to enjoy the success.

Failure will never overtake me if my determination to succeed is strong enough.

Don't take rest after your first victory because if you fail in second, more lips are waiting to say that your first victory was just luck.

You have to dream before your dreams can come true. Man needs difficulties in life because they are necessary to enjoy the success.

Books become permanent companions. Sometimes, they are born before us; they guide us during our life journey and continue for many generations.

It is very easy to defeat someone, but it is very hard to win someone.

Importance of Reading Books in a Student Life

Books play a very important role in everyone's life, especially in a student's life. They are our best friends because they inspire us to do great things in life and overcome our failures. We learn a lot of things from them. Books are our best companions as they provide us knowledge unconditionally without asking anything in return. Friendship with good books makes you a good person. In case when there is no one for your help, only these will become your companion in life. Books will always be there for you in your adverse times and bring positive value to our life. For students, it is worth saying that: "A room without books is like a body without a soul." A good book is like a good friend; the more you read it, the more interesting it will be. They have always benefit to the reader. Teach Positive values, Spirituality and Love. Books bring a realization of the values contained in our hearts. With the help of good story books, one can learn moral values, ethics in life, and become a good human being.

Good Morning!

Good morning sky,
How did you find out it was day?
Good morning sun,
Who told you night had gone away?
Good morning little winds that run!
I am wide awake
Good morning birds,
I am up now too.
Good morning trees,
I shall be right out to play with you!
And creeping grass and Brownie bees!

Sports and Nutrition

Games and Sports Departments

Nutrition is present in all processes of life. Nutrition is the study of nutrients in food and how the body uses nutrients and their relationship between diet, health and disease. To keep our body cells running properly, food must be supplied with correct amount of right chemicals in food. The chemicals in food, which are body needs, are called nutrients.

Balance Diet

“A balanced diet means getting the right types and amounts of food and drinks to supply nutrition and energy for maintaining body cells, organs and tissue and for supporting normal growth and development.”

The Joint Family of Grammar

There is a happy family in the ield of grammar. A husband named noun and a wife named verb live in the house of grammar. Where is the life partner of noun? They have two sons and one daughter. The elder son takes his place when his father is absent. So we call him Pronoun. The younger son Adjective is a pointer who quali ies his father or his elder brother. The daughter adverb often talks about her mother. There is a servant in the family. He is a joker so we call him Interjection who amuses us. Noun has a brother in law named Preposition who helps him to show his position in the life. Conjunction is the neighborhood friend of the family who helps them to make friends and maintain the relation with others. Thus the joint family lives happily together.

Save Plants, Save Environment!

1. Planting a tree is much better than wearing a mask to be safe from pollution.
2. There is enough on the earth for humans need but not for human's greed.
3. Plant a tree, Plant a tree so that next generation can get air for free.
4. Plant a tree and bring rain to get rid of summer heat.
5. Don't destroy the greenery and don't spoil scenery.

Student Life is Golden Life

It is said that “Student life is golden life” because student life is the most important part of human life. It is the period of pure joy and happiness, because the mind of a student is free from cares and worries of a grown-up life.

In this period, the character of man is built. So, it is called formative period of human life. Every student should try his best to make the best use of his student life. The primary duty of a student is to learn and to acquire knowledge. He must do all his work at the right moment and maintain punctuality and discipline. He must remember that if a student becomes successful in his student career and his character is built on a sound basic, He will be able to shine in any sphere of life and serve his society and countries. A student should spend most of his time of this golden period in reading and learning. A good student never wastes his time fixed for reading uselessly. But he must not be a bookworm being always engaged in his studies. He should also be careful about his health and spend some time daily in some sports and games. He should try to develop his body and mind at the same time.
