

In the end is my beginning

Every end has a brand new start,
And every beginnings has a happy ending.

It's a change of change
It's the refill of life

Every finishing has a new starting,
Like every December ends with, ~~new~~ new January of happiness beginning.
Like how night changes to day.

It's a time to build up new ideas,
It's a way for second change of victory.
Wishing for another chance is a dream,
But, utilising a chance is winning.

Past is a waste paper, we need not get worried for it as it's gone.
Present is a blank paper, fill it with the wonderful colours of life.

When present changes to past,
It should be remembered as a sweet memory of joy in our life.
This is what a good ending is called.

All beginnings bring a new ray of hope,
 All endings give a new technique to live.
 We have to use this techniques which we learned from past to face the new start.

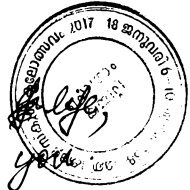

A second chance is given to us
 Only to blot out our mistakes,
 And bring in a good living,
 If we miss a chance, it means to miss life.

Don't feel gloomy about the gone-off time,
 Be thoughtful about the running time.
 Always try to keep a step forward not backward and don't ever give up.

Seek the faults in you and burn them in the fire of hope in your heart, Dress up the good acts around you and decorate them which the flowers of rise.

Every thing in this earth has a cyclic revolve, it may come back Again and again to make up us by ourselves.
 To construct us with good materials.

Some ends may taste bitter is but it may bring sweetness to you.
Ending something for greediness may bring good at first but horror at last.

The only thing which never ends is the goodness in us and around us.

Our life may end but we live through our good duties and best thinkings.

We have to be one of them, who is remembered even after their departure,
One who is alive in our heart,
The one who killed death in return.

Whether end or beginning, it is us, who have to make it and find,
the ending and beginning of the,
different of life in which we perform.
