Shadowed Glam's

"Technology at fingerprints" they say
Each turn or twist

stood at last at tech

From daily amonition, to Mar's
No mission impossible

If he wants

From vedic chants to coding chants
World's glory enchants

A soul, thirst for wisdom

Now drowns in it...!

steal hands now join in healing hearts

Urban or rural

Optical wires, world's new streams

Yes we are the blessed gen..!
This is man's golden time

But we never cared to know
whats shadowed under the gleam

"Man's Biggest achievement" they say
"Artificial Intelligence"

But in no time

The azure blue ~~glowing~~ skies
made its way to ~~the~~ grey

"AI" - A blessing & menace

But we never gazed at the death
that holds

Herculian laboratories - done
in the blink of an eye

Loved ones, "Just" a call away.

But we never realised the distance that grew
When we were lost in the abyss of endless scroll
Dinning rooms - were once warmth stood.

Now turns cold and pale.

Children grew unknown of mom's
warm embrace.

Under AI's cunning eye.

Each stroke, each line, spied.

We weigh our pocket

in surveillance.

We bring it to our home.

Call it "smart"

Really, who is in control?

The brush stroke from trembling hands,
taken away by metal wires.

It learned the hue, made it stroke.
But, it stands hollow, of his fingers warmth

The writers quill, dried up, undone
~~He carved the lines from his aching heart.~~

It wrote the line in perfect meter and rhyme, words joined in perfect harmony.

Still, it's incomparable
To what he carved out of his aching heart.

The singers voice, imperfect, real
Replaced by perfect vocals.
without human unrest.

Still lacks its zest...

It ~~can~~ ^{can} immitate, learn and produce

But does it feel?

Technology may cure the 'BODY'

But how to heal a 'SOUL' without
'HUMANITY'

"With AI's hum, life made easier"

Little did we know

The costly cost was just

"Man's Authenticity"

Keep in mind to "Have A Limit"

With wisdom we can do wonders.

Make it in our control, before

Its too late

Or is it already Taken...?
