“The pearls of shadow!...

On the mid of fantasy night,

I mellowed in the gleam of shadow light

The shadow often seems

More real than the body beams

Each shadow is a brushstroke, deft and kind

And it soothed my mind like a silken dandelions down,

It dancing through mystery town

And the shadow shaded blue,

Struck like a fantasy glue everything was out of my imagination

I can't favour my limitation...

The bunch of enhance peace dies
And the body beings full of zeophobic lies The shadow twinkle like a star, after sail off the endless war...

Realm of joyful memories pale, everything was a shadow tale
And the shadow feels like a great pain it pierced the heart again and again

The night has thousand eyes it gleams around boundless skies
As a fountains mingle with rock, shadow mingle with the base rock

Shadow pside with belowed crown,
And body being more shade of brown
And sea waves stretched for huge lost It heals the shadow most

And it seized my entire light body pale and the shadow bright
"And shadow touched the pain,
It seems more real than the body pain....
