Topic: " All journeys begin and end here "

" The Intricate Maze "

I wandered through the raven lanes, waiting for the luminous stars that were.
the pathway was collocated with oaks and pines, that drinks haze and dew for wine.

In the trees, so chilled and moist wailed a Blue jay, young and lost.
The world spins around, yet it is still caught in the dance of fate and will.

I continued my journey, so divine and vast, confining the future, present and the past.
Through each glimpse of tear and smile, I learn to walk a longer mile.

Mountains stand unmoved by the wind of time a journey, brews in the calmness of the rhyme exploring an aching heart, in reality so tenebrous and shrouded in mystery

Healing a mind drenched in grief and despair heavy as a silent and echoing prayer In these journeys, a warrior is born within with a valiant heart covered in a mild skin

They reveal life's fleeting song, mirroring the rights and wrong In those lies the tales, untold of losses deep and of minds, so bold

In the journeys, endless they stand time like sand, slips through our hands the castles of minutes, stand high and tall and the seconds cascade, like waterfall

Seasons shift and so do we, tied to the truth, we learn to be We seeks for a mighty voice to call from the pinnacle of euphoria, so tall

Through the shifting nocturnes and days, through the sapphire seas and ruby bays the journey moves ahead with wanderlust, to paint over our heart's rust.

With each step we take, shedding fear Our soul sways to the rhythm they hear The winding paths, far and near moulds a mind, pristine and clear

Even in a tangle, where the frost and fire collide a pinch of resilience and peace resides piercing the ebony clouds of gloom, crumbling the sorrowful, shrunked blooms

A gentle heart and a calm mind, together they make a journey, entwined a journey, that begins and ends in our tiredless soul, that never bends

A reminder, to rise from the ashen skies and to live life, so true and wise a hopeful journey that greets us, an unknown road, that leads back to us
