Impact Of Social Media on Democracy

Introduction

'Social media' is the product of the rapidly growing technology in our world. It is an open world which contains the brightest wonders and darkest mysteries. Social media was created with the aim to bring people's in far places close by heart and make communication more easier for them. Social media is something that should be handled seriously. Like any other technology, "as long as it is used properly at the proper level or manner it is healthy and safe" but on the otherhand if it is misused or used with less care it may lead to very big dangers.

..... Social media helps people feel comfortable or at ease by offering various services and protections but it should always be handled wisely.

Impacts Of Social Media

On 'DEMOCRACY'

Like any other fields of technology social media also has its impacts, influences, pros and cons. It makes us comfortable by providing various user services and benefits. But we should be aware about the traps or cheats behind this.

We should be keen about our personal details. People should avoid unfamiliar contacts or messages from unknown persons in social media. Sharing information with unknown people may lead to one's own harms such as stalking, kidnapping, abusing, exploiting etc. These are against the fundamental rights of each democrat.

Democracy provides the opportunity to select and elect the likes of an individual but it should never be exploited. It helps us to choose leaders according to our will.

As <sup>human</sup> ~~Human~~ beings are <sup>being</sup> transformed into preys of exploitation in the modern era, like in any other field it has affected the relationship between social media and democracy too. At times, Social media is seen as a block or impurity between the co-relation of democracy, democrats and their leaders.

The citizens decide their leaders and these leaders must stay loyal to the citizens and perform their duties with utmost total sincerity and gratitude.

The rate of sincere, loyal and rightful governing systems are slowly vanishing. Most of the leaders forget about the people who helped them reach at heights and start performing various activities for his own development.

According to <sup>some</sup> ~~the~~ reports, social media is slowly turning into a platform.

where the people expose their oppositions and raise their voices against the injustices prevailing in this society.

Social media is a very popular and advanced field where we get records of events taking place at any corner of the world in ~~just~~ a snap.

It is a stage to cyberbullying, hacking and exploiting. There are many disappointing incidents that took place due <sup>to</sup> this aggressive manner of Social Media.

Every person in our society has the right to do what they like if its totally unharmed for the society and co-organisms but cyberbullying, hacking or collecting informations about an individual wrongly and exploiting or damaging a persons image or prestigious is totally unacceptable.

It may lead to mental or emotional imbalances, depression, anger, revolts etc.

As social beings it is our responsibility to safeguard ourselves and others. We must strive not to harm anyone and instead help them according to the limits of our talents.

Social media is a platform which introduces many masked personalities. If not handled keenly there are chances of being victims of bullying or abuse. We must be keen to act according to the rights of each citizen. We should use social media as a public platform to bring or attract everyone towards the anti-social activities and social reforms in the society instead of creating a havoc or harassing a particular person or group.

We should realise that peace is better than fear and knowledge is better than weapons. Wise decisions must be made in order to attract the public and inform them about social injustices.

People must try to expose their oppositions in a creative and impressive manner instead of violence and crimes.

It is essential to fight for our rights. There may be a helpless situation faced when the government and leader whom we elect face turn their faces away. But it can be ~~overcome~~ overcome by the timely creative use of Social Media.

Social Media is a strong weapon that is easily available for commoners since it is a public platform, the problems raised will spread among the public in a more speedy and effective way.

And as the rate of supporters and influencers increase there will be no other way than solving the issue.

SOCIAL MEDIA- THE PUBLIC LAWYER

Social media has now become a platform where people change their lives, problems, hardships etc. through a single post or comment.

It makes them confident about the solution for the issue.

There are many incidents occurring day by day where social media helps people gain public attraction for their issues and gain the attention of government.

Social media has become a reliable platform where people respond and react without fear with no difference in gender, nation, caste or creed. It can be easily approached.

By this way social media has created a good and neat impact among the people.

by making solutions for their problems in a better way.

It acts as a lawyer who is very much concerned about his/her case and determined to gain the win no matter how much it costs.

Social media platforms are used by people of all age groups. From children to adults, the presence of the power of social media is felt in all fields, everywhere. It is felt everywhere even in the most unrecognized field.

From employment to democracy or from publishing to reacting or opposing. It is helpful in all corners of the world.

It generates public recognition and makes people aware of the social injustices prevailing in our society.

Social Media platforms like Facebook, Twitter, Instagram etc are the apps commonly used by all generations to promote and expose their hues and views and react to the injustices.

Conclusion

..... Social media is an open world that contains the brightest wonders and darkest mysteries. Like any other technology it too has its own advantages and disadvantages but at the end it completely depends on the user.....

..... It has created impressionable and a minimum average impact on the society. Opinions and responses differ from person to person or generation to generation.....

..... In all fields the positive side outweighs the negative side in order to gain recognition or sustain in the market.....

..... As all technologies it should be handled or used properly and wisely. Instead of misusing it we must try to stand for the voiceless and exploited.....
