Journey of Life and Death

Life what a wonderful thing a time when we spread our wing
We learn to lose and win
We learn to be honest and sin when life begins to cry Death makes a sigh

Universe must soon end because he finally found his friend

Sun shines so bright he creates the white moonlight

He cares for moon his first love

This love is from above

God created everything in a unique way

And he is still creating it today

Beginning and End will meet

And they will bring heat

Every little step we take

Will create big steps we will make every journey begins and ends here there is no time at all to fear

Life loves her partner death

He has lovely breath

He dances with her always

He bring roses for her always

Life is like a race

And death is like a base

Death would go a hundred miles to see her picture in hospital tiles

Beginning is like Life

She is ends beloved wife when the road is over

Death will find his lover

Our birth was on earth

And our death is on earth

Earth cries because she holds hell

She laughs because she holds a bell

We once were little insects

We were once little pests

But now we grew wings

We now have gold rings

We sing praises to the King of Kings

We sing hymns while we hold golden things

We are very old and we are covered in gold

A poet's life starts with a pen

And when he dies he is golden

He is full of honest pride

And along streets he will stride whatever we gain will be all in vain

Our awards in earth will soon be lost

And it will make a great cost

Our journey begins here

And it ends here
Look at the white lily
He is dressed brightly Water and oxygen are essential for life without it there is a strife

The end will come to whom I admire

The end is here for every desire

We go after passion

And throw our ambition

Our life is a plant

Life is an ant

Earth was once green

But now she is very keen

She loves young fellows

But soon she will be yellow

Life is like a flower

She has so much power

But she is nothing

Life is a butterfly
And she will soon die
Her wings are gone
She holds a phone

And she is everything

Like a pencil that ends
Death has lots of friends
Death is a silver key
He is not a monkey

One day Death will confess to Life
He will ask her to be his wife whatever we do on earth will go away as she gives birth

Love comes from heart
Life a good start Death says this this is his bliss

He loves to cherish

"Bell" he sings that he will perish
His last wish is to kiss life
And ask her to be his wife

Life is a model
She is a wishing well
A coin and she comes A coin and death comes

Auroras are beautiful
Their colours are wonderful
But they will soon end
And they will see death their friend

In the end we get a crown
And we will see no frown we will sit in a chair
And we will have white hair

God is my hope and he found a lovely voice, a beautiful sound An arrow in me from cupid
Love is smart not stupid

Our Times end as we open the door
And we lie on the cold floor we will soon be in heaven we have one life not seven

I Love the green wood

I think it is very good

Its sad to think of end but one day we will send when my heart beats slow down

I will see my golden crown

I told you Our journey starts on earth and our journey ends on earth

Our Life is like a star

A Diamond from above

Death is like a black hole

Death is a victory as whole

We live inside time that is why we hear his chime time like a feather

But sometimes he is bad weather

I love to sing songs that is where I belongs

I am so sad I dont Love

By anyone from above.

Accept failure and victory

For it is part of your story

Love nothing

AND LOVE "Everything".

Make History my friend

Dont make an end

Love your life

She is Deaths new wife.
