WINTER OLYMPICS

The winter comes
The Olympic comes
Its time for play
Its time for joy
Its time to free as much as free

The players are ready
They are standing steady
In the track of their life

Don't quit
Don't afraid
In the track of their life
Its time to show your power in the game
Let it burn it in your heart

Take your foots into the upstairs
Which leads you to the success

So,...hold your passion
Hold your dream
Don't quit
Don't afraid

Fox And wolf

One day ,a fox , observing a fish cart coming, lay down and pretended to be dead the cart man tempted by the idea of making some money by selling the fox 's fur picked up the animal by its tail and finger in to the bark of the cart among the fish. Then he resumed his journey. The fox ate his fill of the fish and jumped out of the cart. A wolf saw him jumping on and asked him what he had been doing in it. The fox told him how he succeeded in his plan. The wolf ran ahead of the cart and down in its path pretending to be dead the cart man was delighted to find another animal to sell , but he found the animal too heavy to lift.

Books And Reading

Being one of the oldest means of communication and distribution, Books not only have spiritual, Educational and cultural implications, but also involve the legitimate industrial and economic aspects of the publishing trade. Reading is a means of language acquisition of communication and of sharing information and ideas. The reading process requires continuous practices, development and refinement.

Happy is the man who acquires the habit of reading when he is young. He secures a life long source of pleasure, instruction and inspiration. If he has his beloved books, “Kings Treasures”- Treasuries filled with riches much more valuable than gold, silver and precious Stones, one acquires knowledge, noble thoughts and high ideals through reading one book does not read is empty in his life. We must choose right kind of books. The worth of a book is to be measured by what you can carry away from it, says Tames Bryce. Reading gives the highest kind of pleasure. When we are tired or the brain is weary with serious study, it is a healthy re creation to lose ourselves in some absorbing story written by a master hand.

But to read only the books of fiction are like eating nothing but cakes and sweets. As we need plain, whole some food for the body we must have serious reading for mind. There are many noble books on history, biography, philosophy, science etc. Which we ought to read and which will give us not only pleasure but also education. We can develop a taste of serious reading so that in the end it will give us more solid pleasure than books of fiction. A good book has no ending. A book is like a garden carried in the pocket, is a Chinese proverb. Poetry should not be neglected, for the best poetry gives us noble thoughts and beautiful imagination clothed in lovely and musical language. Books are the quietest and most constant of friends. They are the most accessible wisest of counsellors. Our friends may change or die, But our Books are always waiting patiently to talk to us. They never cross prevish or unwilling to converse, as some times our friends are No wonder a serious reader becomes a Book- Lover.

POVERTY

Poverty means not having enough Money for basic needs such as food, drinking water, shelter, or toiletries. Many people in different countries live in poverty, especially in developing areas of West and Sub-Saharan Africa, Latin America and some parts of Asia.

There are different ways to measure poverty. The World Bank says that extreme poverty is when someone has less than US$1 a day to live on (that dollar is an ideal one). It has been changed to rule out certain effects such as inflation, meaning that prices of things rise higher than what a person is paid, and other price level differences. Moderate poverty is when people have to live on less than $2 a day. In the year 2001, 1.1 billion people were seen as extremely poor, and 2.7 billion were seen as moderately poor.

In the developed world this does not apply. There, many people are seen as the working poor. They have a job, but do not earn enough money for basic things such as food and a home. In most developed countries, people without jobs receive money from the government, but this is often less than they need for a comfortable life.

There are different ways to tell if a country is rich or poor. The Gross Domestic Product, or GDP, and Human Development Index, or HDI, are two of those measures. Gross Domestic Product is the money made from trade from inside the country.

HDI, meaning the Human Development Index is a different matter. It is determined by life expectancy and adult literacy rates. Places in Africa like Guinea-Bissau and Sierra Leone are the poorest, with Sierra Leone having the lowest HDI ranking in the world.

Poverty is a hurdle in the way of a country's progress. One way of helping lower poverty is by educating poor people, so that they can start contributing to a nation's economic development. Education teaches the poor about their rights and may show them the path to become an important part in growth and expansion of the country. Vienna Declaration also tells this fact.

One of the most important things that is needed to make a country richer is for the Government to want to help poor people do better. Without this it is hard for people to become better off.

“The poor are starving and their hunger keeps them in poverty.” a quote from Nathan Jones

An Appeal For A Clean Environment

For a better world to live in, we need clean air, pure water, nutritious food and healthy environment. If the whole mankind is not ready to maintain clean environment we will have to face poverty, pollution, poor health and unrest.

Today our media discuss more and more about air pollution, deforestation etc. Air pollution is aggregated because of four specific factors. Increasing Traffic, Expanding Cities, Large scale economic development and rapid industrialization have due to the air more and more polluted over the years. Air pollution can either be natural or man made. Natural phenomenon such as lightening discharges, biological decay of vegetable matter, forest fire etc. Are the major sources of air pollution. Most of our cities are polluted by industries, emitting gases like sulphur dioxide, nitrogen dioxide, carbon dioxide and chemical vapours. Factories, petrochemical and petroleum refineries are also emitting pollutants into the air.

Environmental pollution is taking place mainly because of human activities. Population is growing day by day. Man needs more food. We have to utilize natural resources. Our economy is growing fast. We need more energy to support industry, trade and agriculture.

We all have a collective responsibility towards our environment. We must learn to live in a sustainable way. Learn to use judiciously our resources like air, fresh water, forests, wild life and seas with out damaging them. Population is expending, lifestyles are changing. We must keep the world in good conditions for the coming generation.

Springs

In the stratosphere there is a very small part comprised of gases including ozone. Ozone layer prevents sun's harmful ultraviolet rays from directly reaching to us. In 1980s it was discovered that holes were appearing in the ozone layer. CFCS used in refrigerators are responsible for this.

Today many animals are appearing in the Red-data book. Wild habitats are disappearing forest are being cut down, rivers and seas polluted, ponds and lake are filled in list of destructions seems endless.

Now we are facing serious problem of various kinds of diseases including filaria, Malaria, cholera, H1,N1. It is because of polluted environment.

Take care of the earth and she will take care of you. It is not only the government duty to protect the environment for the future. It is we, the people, who have to try earnestly to control pollution only then something fruitful can be done. The coming generations instead of cursing us, will appreciate our efforts .

MAGIC POT

Long long ago there lived an old women. Who sold the best soup in the Market. It was Chicken Soup. Nobody knew the old women's name Nobody know where she lived. Nobody know why her Soup was always the best in the Market and why it was so hot. But people did not think about that. They bought the Soup and ate it.

Every morning the old women came to the Market square. She carried a big black pot of hot Chicken soup on her head. Then she sat on under a tree and it did not take her long to sell her Soup. There lived a small boy did not far from the market square. His name was kalari. He liked the Soup very much. He wanted to know where the old women came from.

One day when the old women put her empty pot on her head and left the market square. Kalari followed her. But she did not see him. They went a long, long way. They climbed up a high hill. Evening came kalari was afraid but he went on. At last the women came to a little hut on that high hill. There stood a very large pot "how big the pot is," through kalari.

The women went into the hut. Kalari went up to the pot and looked into it. It was empty. Then the women came out of the hut. Kalari quickly hid himself. The women came up to the large pot. Then she began to sing. Magic pot, Magic pot make hot soup for me. Make hot soup for me. Make soup with chicken. Make the soup for me to sell and for people to buy.

Magic pot, magic pot! Very soon the soup was ready steam came out of the pot. The smell of the Soup was very good and kalari was very Hungry. Then the old women went back into her hut. Kalari came the old women went back into her hut. Kalari came up to the pot. He looked under it. There was no fire there but the pot was full of hot Chicken soup! "I must have some of it. I am so hungry!" kalari said to himself and put his hand into the pot to take a piece of Chicken. But suddenly the old women came out of her hut, she saw kalari with his hand in the pot. Oh, oh, oh "She cried oh, oh, oh!"

Kalari ran down the hill as quickly as he could the old women ran after him. But she could not catch him. Kalari ran and ran and at last came home. He told his parent about the old women on the hill and her Magic pot. They looked at the hill and saw steam there. Yes, we see the steam of the Magic pot, they said.

From that day on the old women stopped coming to the market with her soup, Nobody went up that hill to see her. They were afraid of the old women. But now, when people see clouds round the hill, they say, "look! There is the steam from the Magic pot.

A PRAYER IN SPRING

Oh, give us pleasure in the flowers to-day;

And give us not to think so far away

As the uncertain harvest; keep us here

All simply in the springing of the year.

Oh, give us pleasure in the orchard white,

Like nothing else by day, like ghost by night;

And make us happy in the happy bees,

The swarm dilating round the perfect trees.

And make us happy in the darting bird

That suddenly above the bees is heard,

The meteor that thrusts in with needle bill,

And off a blossom in mid air stands still.

For this is love and nothing else is love,

The which it is reserved for God above

To sanctify to what far ends He will,

But which it only needs that we fulfil.

THE UGLY TREE

Long long ago in a dense forest there were thousands of tall and beautiful trees. There were happy, but proud of them selves. Among them there also an Ugly Tree whose branches were badly twisted. Its roots had uneven curves. All the trees made fun of that Ugly Tree.

“How are you, hunch back?” The other trees always shouted and their laughter made the Ugly Tree feel sad. But, he never raised a voice against them. The Ugly Tree thought, “I wish i were as beautiful as the other trees. Why did god do these to me? Neither can i provide shade to the traveler’s not can the birds make nests on me. Nobody needs me”

One day a wood cutter came to the forest. He took a look at the trees and said, “There trees are lovely. I must cut them” As soon as he picked up his axe the trees became frightened.

Chop, chop, chop Went the wood cutters axe and one by one the trees started to fall. “None of as is going to be spared”. Screamed one of the beautiful trees. Soon that tree too was brought to ground by the woodcutters axe.

By now, the Woodcutter had come near to the Ugly Tree. He had just raised his axe then suddenly he noticed. How Looked the Ugly Tree was. “Hmm! Crooked tree seems to be unless for me. I cannot make long straight logs of this Ugly Tree, “he thought and he moved towards another beautiful tree. The Ugly Tree leaved a huge sigh of relief. He realized. That by making him Ugly, God had actually given him a boon.

From that day the Ugly tree never complained. He was happy with his crooked branches. He never forgot how he was spared from the woodcutters axe, only because he was crooked and Ugly.

2019 Novel Corona

It is a virus identified as the cause of an outbreak of respiratory illness first detected in Wuhan ,China.Much is unknown about how 2019-nCoV , a new coronavirus , spreads , current knowledge is largely based on what is known about similar coronaviruses . Coronaviruses are a family of viruses that are common in many different species of animals including camels ,cattle, cats and bats .

Transmission

Springs

Most often ,spread from person-to-person happens among close contacts (about 6 feet) .Person-to-person is thought to occur mainly via respiratory droplets produced when an infected person coughs or sneezes . These droplets can land in the mouths or noses of people who are nearby or possibly be inhaled into the lungs its currently unclear if a person can get 2019-nCoV by touching a surface of object that has the virus on it and then touching their own mouth nose or possibly their eyes.

Symptoms

Patients with 2019-nCoV have reportedly had mild to severe respiratory illness with symptoms of:

fever

cough

shortness of breath

Symptoms may appear 2-14 days after exposure.

precaution

Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 second if not available use on aicont -based hand sanitizes with at least 60% alcohol

Avoid touching your eyes , nose mouth with unwashed hands

Avoid close contact with people who are sick

Springs

Stay home when you are sick

Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue then throw the tissue in the trash
