THE RACE OF THE RABBIT AND THE TORTOISE

Once upon a time a tortoise and a hare had an argument about who was faster, they decided to settle the argument with a race. They agreed on a route and started off the race. The hare shot ahead and ran briskly for some time. Then seeing that he was far ahead of the tortoise,he thought he had sit under a tree for some time and relax before continuing the race.He sat under the tree and soon fell a sleep.The tortoise plodding on overtook him and soon finished the race, emerging as the undisputed Champ, The hare woke up and realized that he had lost the race.

MORAL-”Slow and steady wins the race”

Wanting To Do What I Love

Here I sit

In a class I don't want to be

May be pointless to admit

What do they want me to see

Fire And Ice

Some say the world will end in fire,

Some say in ice

From what I've fasted to desire

I hold with those who favor fire

But if it had to perish twice,

I think I know enough to hate

To say that for destruction ice

Is also great

And would suffice

THE GOLDEN TOUCH

once there lived a greedy man in a small town. He was very rich and he loved gold and all things fancy. But he loved his daughter more than anything one day, he changed upon a fairy. The fairy's hair was caught in a few tree branches. He helped her out, but as his greediness took over, he realized that he had an opportunity to become rich by asking for a wish in return. The fairy granted him a wish. He said, "All that I touch should turn to gold." And his wish was granted by the grateful fairy. Whenever he touched anything it became gold. Once he got home, his daughter rushed to greet him. Soon as he bent down to scoop her up in his arms, she turned into a gold statue. He realized his greediness, he was then searching for the fairy to take away his wish.

MORACA: Greed will always lead to downfall.

PRODIGAL'S WINTER

Once there lived a prodigal who resklessiy spent his entire inheritance on wasteful extravaganees.Finnaly he was left with nothing but a woolen blanket.HE thought he could sell it after winter.

One day, he saw a greater racket tailed drongo flying around indicating that summer was at hand .

“Now that the summer is here, I don't need this blanket anymore, “he thought.

He sold the blanket thus dispossing off the last of his possessions. Before long,the winter became swere.It snowed heavily.The spend thrift had nothing to fight the entreme weather conditions.Then he saw the greater racket-tailed drongo lying dead in the snow.

“Your untimely visit caused you to die in the extreme winter.And here I am as good as dead, thanks to you;”He wallowed in safnity.

NATURE

It's our Nature;
Our beautiful lady,
It changes at anytime!
She is beautiful in the morning,

Angry at afternoon,
Sad when rains,
Fall asleep at sea;
At night moon and stars-
Shining on the sky.

Our mother is equal to
Our motherland because...
There is no good place
More than our Nature.....
